INTRODUCTORY.

OFFICE WESTERN PUBLISHING CO. }
146 S. Water street, Chicago. }
July 5th, 1870. }

IN presenting this, our second volume of HOLLAND'S DIRECTORY OF BLOOMINGTON we confess to feeling proud in having produced a work of such size, beauty and we hope accuracy. We return our warmest thanks to the numerous patrons of the DIRECTORY, and all who have assisted us in any way, either by subscription, advertisements, or information, which has materially aided us in issuing this work; we earnestly hope it will meet their expectation and command their kind approval. We have spared no pains or expense in getting out this book to make it acceptable, having printed it on the best of paper, and bound it in a style both pleasing and durable.

In the Directory issued in 1866, there were 2,970 names. In Holland's Directory for 1868, there were 4,200, a gain over the previous one of 940 names, showing at that time a rapid increase. In the present volume we find there are 5,694 names being an increase over 1868, of 1,494 and over 1866, of 2,724. By a carefully taken census we find the exact population of the city to be 17,019, but non-residents and transients are not included in these figures. We feel confident that July, 1872, will find a population of at least 20,000 souls. With many thanks to the business men generally and calling the attention of the City Council to the necessity of having the names of the streets posted up at every corner of a street, and assuring all we shall still continue to faithfully represent the interests of Bloomington, we bid you all good bye until our next work.

We remain respectfully,

WESTERN PUBLISHING COMPANY,

Publishers.

Miller & Tankersley, Proprietors Art Gallery.

We take much pleasure in referring to Messrs. M. & T., who are successors to Joe S. Scibird, and although they are comparatively speaking new men in Bloomington, yet they came among us remarkably well recommended not only as reliable and trustworthy men, but as adepts in the Photographic Art. They take all kinds of pictures from the smallest to the largest size, do copying, enlarging, &c. Their India Ink Pictures being splendid, indeed we think Messrs. Miller & Tankersley, can and do turn out as fine work as any we have seen, while their rates are lower than some others charge. Don't forget to step into the Art Gallery over 107 & 109 West Jefferson, north side public square, when wishing a life-like picture.

CITY OF BLOOMINGTON, ILL.

HISTORICAL AND BUSINESS REVIEW.

ITS PROGRESS AND PROSPECTS.

Bloomington is a flourishing city, and the seat of justice of McLean County ; is situated on the Chicago, Alton and St. Louis Railroad, one mile and a half south of its junction with the Illinois Central, and 126 miles south-west from Chicago. It is beautifully located on the border of Blooming Grove, on a high, rolling site, and elegantly laid out. The surrounding country is rich in groves of trees, fine residences and farms, with a rich and fertile soil, adapted to the production of everything conducive to the wants or even the luxuries of life.

About thirty-five years ago the spot on which the city now stands, was a wild unbroken prairie. The natural advantages of the country, prominent among them being the remarkable fertility and productiveness of the soil, as well as the healthfulness of the climate, and the surpassing beauty of the situation, had begun to attract a few passing settlers as early as 1824, when the following named gentlemen, long since deceased, located upon the land where the city now stands, viz : John Hendricks, John Dawson and William Goodheart. In the same year came William H. Hodge, who made a claim of lands, and erected a small log house, the first erected within the present corporate limits of the place. At that time, however, there was nothing which could properly be called a settlement in the neighborhood, and none indeed of any consequence nearer than 30 miles distant, where there was then a small colony of eleven families. We allude to the few houses at Chicago, and about an equal number at Peoria, constituting the nearest settled points of any size. Messrs. Rood, Walker, Benson, and William Evans, came to the place at various times within the next few years.

In 1829 James Allin, sen., came into this part of the country, and with him a new spirit of enterprise and industry, which had an immediate and happy influence upon the rising fortunes of the little community. Mr. Allin became the purchaser, from the Government, of all the lands now embraced in and surrounding the old limits of the city. At the session of the Illinois Legislature of 1830 and '31 he succeeded in getting a bill passed for the organization of the new county of McLean, with such boundaries as to make this spot the most feasible for the county seat. The county was formed by a division of Tazewell County, and the settlement of the boundaries between it and McLean became a fruitful subject for dispute and agitation among the early settlers of the country. Local elections frequently turned upon it, and it was for a long time a question of absorbing interest to the citizens of Bloomington. From the scattered nature of the early population, the old county limits were necessarily very large, and subsequent division becoming necessary gave rise to a great deal of anxiety and very earnest efforts upon the part of many citizens with reference to retaining Bloomington as the county seat. It is said that the principal inducement presented in the circulation of the first petition, praying for the proposed separation, was the shorter distance to court, a matter of no slight importance in those days, when, owing to the want of sufficient accommodation, whole families frequently "camped out" in their wagons during their stay, bringing their own provisions and cooking apparatus with them. Mr. Allin brought to the place a small stock of goods, and opened the first store in a small log house which he also occupied as a dwelling. In this same house, and separated only by a thin partition from the family and domestic arrangements of Mr. Allin, the first courts were held, his honor Judge Lockwood presiding, and afterward in a small frame building, erected on the public square for that purpose, until 1836, when a brick Court House was erected at a cost of $8,500. The present McLean County Court House is a building, situated in the centre of the public square, in the city of Bloomington, is nearly completed, and the design, convenience in rooms for courts and offices of the county, is probably unequalled in the western country. It is 90 by 131 feet, exclusive of projections. Outside walls, columns and steps built of stone, inside walls of brick, dome and joists iron. The hall capacious, with marble floors, and splendid finish. The grounds are being beautifully ornamented with trees, shrubbery, iron fence and stone walks. The building is thoroughly ventilated and substantially furnished with steam apparatus for heating. The furniture of the latest style, with iron cases for records. The building was ordered by the Supervisors Court, at the expense of the County in the sum of about $400,000, and is truly an ornament to the County, of which its citizens may well be proud, and reflects great credit upon the architect, builders and commissioners, who have designed and executed the work, and the enterprise and liberality of the people of the county.

Besides those already named, Messrs. Demmett, Larrison, Baker, Gridley, (1831,) McKisson, Covell, Rev. James Latta, (1830,) John and W. S. Moore, Solomon Dodge, Dr. John Anderson, and K. H. and Jesse Fell, (1832,) may be regarded as the first settlers of Bloomington.

Mr. Allin was decided upon locating upon the section now known as Bloomington, by observing that it appeared to be upon the natural lines of communication connecting important centres of trade, cutting a common hazel switch to serve as dividers, he opened his map, and placing the twig so as to pass in a direct line from St. Louis to Chicago, found it to pass also through Blooming Grove, repeating the experiment with other great centres, he met with the same result, and still further trials leading to the same conclusion that this point was one destined to be an important railroad centre, from this apparently trivial incident his resolve was taken, to attempt the work of developing the wonderful resources of the country, with what surprising success may be seen.

The first store as already mentioned, was commenced by James Allin, sen., in 1830, near the corner of the present East and Grove Streets. Up to 1840 there were not more than six small stores in the place. At the present time Bloomington can boast of as many fine brick store houses and enterprising merchants as any city of like size in the United States. Messrs. Gridley, Covell and Haines, were among the earliest and most prominent merchants. Dr. John Anderson occupied an honorable position among the members of the medical profession. He was the first practising physician in the place, as early as 1832. He was followed soon after by Dr. Haines, and a partnership was soon formed between them.

The first brick building in the town was probably erected by James Allin, sen., in 1839, at the corner of Centre and Front Streets. Now they are scattered over the whole city, and many of them both private residences and blocks of stores would do credit to cities of a larger growth. The first steam saw mill in Bloomington was erected by Mr. Chase, of Cincinnati, in 1836. It was at least two years afterward before a flouring mill was built in the neighborhood of Wesleyville, and soon after another, owned by Mr. Covell. The history of early mill building in the county was attended by some amusing incidents. One of the first objects in the place which attracted the eye of the traveler in those days, was a huge frame on the outskirts of the village, built of timber, and having long arms stretching into the air, without any ostensible purpose. It was popularly known as "Gridley's Chapel," being the property of that gentleman, and was originally intended for a wind mill. but all attempts to turn it to any use seemed destined to failure. After several useless efforts had been made to induce it to "fulfil the end of its being," as a windmill of good antecedents should have done, a party of the more roguishly inclined took advantage of a high gale of wind to set it going and watch the results. The arms moved at first slowly and majestically in the breeze, but their motion gradually becoming accelerated, it soon culminated in an insane whirl of machinery, and the body politic being already somewhat crazy and unstable from long exposure, one portion soon parted company with the rest, and flew to a fabulous distance, being succeeded in its turn by another, until the whole structure, to use a Yankee expression, "went to eternal smash," and thus ended the history of windmills in this part of the country.

Many attempts were made to erect flouring mills, long before the first was built, and many hundreds of bushels of grain donated, after the primitive fashion of the times, to hold out inducements for some enterprising man to engage in the undertaking, but without success. One ingenious citizen at last supposed that he had invented a cheap power which could be applied to such purposes, and which he declared was destined to supersede, steam, water and all power heretofore discovered, or to be discovered in the future. He resisted stoutly any solicitation to make known his cherished secret, but proceeded with his plans in silence, with the purpose of forever silencing all objectors, and vindicating the superiority of his invention over all others, by a grand exhibition of the machinery in complete running order. On the day appointed a considerable and curious crowd assembled to await the result. It should be premised that the inventor had previously been running a horse or "ox mill," something upon the plan of an ordinary tread mill, and it was soon found that he intended to supersede the live stock by a wagon placed upon wheels and heavily loaded with stone, the revolution of the wheels to give the necessary impetus to the machinery. All was hushed expectation until the order was given in stentorian tones, "John cut the rope!" The rope was accordingly cut, but instead of the busy hum of machinery, only dead silence saluted the ears of the anxious spectators. The wheels, in defiance of logic which proved to a "demonstration" that they would circulate refused to move. In a word, "the thing wouldn't go," and the hopes of the citizens of Bloomington were once more doomed to disappointment, much to the disgust of the illustrious inventor and with much laughter by the unbelievers.

The first public house in the place was kept by a Mr. Kimler. Richard Edwards, Jarvis Gaylord, and the ubiquitous John Smith were successively among the pioneers of the "tavern keeping," and their establishment was dignified by the name of the Prairie House.

The winter of 1830—31, was remarkable for an extraordinary deep fall of snow blocking up the roads, and making travel almost impossible; considerable privation, and, in some cases, even actual distress were occasioned by it, and a lively impression seems to have been left upon the minds of the early settlers, which has made the winter of the "Deep Snow" an epoch in the early history of the place, to which all dates are referred, and which furnishes reliable data for all the weather-wise information of the "oldest inhabitant."

The year 1831 was one of considerable depression and embarrassment, especially among the farming community; scarcely sufficient being raised for the support of the population, but from that time matters began to mend, and a steady and encouraging growth succeeded.

From 1836 to 1842 was another period of marked depression. Owing to the involved condition of the State finances and other discouraging circumstances, but few inducements were held out to immigration, and comparatively few improvements were made. Since then, however, the progress of the place has been constant, and increased wealth and prosperity in all things, have been the rule.

The Indian war which broke out in 1832 created a great deal of excitement in the town and county, and a company of volunteers was raised here for the war, of which Gen. Covell was the Captain, Gen. A. Gridley, 1st Lieutenant and M. Baldwin, 2d Lieutenant. Other than this, very little excitement of any kind was known to disturb the peace and quiet of the then little town. The few inhabitants that were then here were at peace with each other; the soil produced bountifully; produce of all kinds could be had in abundance at a "mere song;" and as one of the old citizens expressed it, they were enjoying a "little heaven upon earth," when all of sudden the "steam horse" bursted upon them; the Goths and Vandals of the East came rushing in; property changed hands; log cabins and little frame houses gave place to large and beautiful residences; flower gardens and tastefully arranged shrubberies were desecrated with the erection of large blocks of three storied brick stores; and the very earth seemed to tremble with the heavy march of improvement.

These improvements caused a great advance in all kinds of produce, and is of course attributable to the facts of increased population and railroad facilities for shipment. In early times the only way for farmers to get money, was to cart a load of wheat about 40 miles to Pekin, on the Illinois River. Then nothing but wheat would bring cash—all other kinds of produce had to be traded for store goods at extravagant prices. Many of our more wealthy farmers, however, did not pretend to sell their grain; but would feed it up to stock, for which, when grown and driven to Chicago or further east they got cash. Now all kinds of grain and produce sells readily for cash, and buyers are willing and anxious to purchase at good living prices.

The following table will show the increase of inhabitants in Bloomington from time to time:

In 1834,	census taken by Allen Withers, Esq.,	contained.....	180

In 1850 the citizens thought it expedient to have a city organization. To get a city charter required a population of at least 1,500 inhabitants. The census was taken and the town found to contain, as above stated, 1,611 souls, whereupon a charter was obtained, and the requisite officers elected.

To the building of the two railroads (which intersect each other at this point) may be mostly attributed the recent rapid growth of the city. It is true that the place was in a healthy, growing condition, prior to their commencement; but not until they were commenced and completed did it assume the rapid growth and importance which it has now attained.

The surveys for the Illinois Central Railroad commenced at this point in 1851. In the Spring of 1852 the work commenced, and in June, 1853, the cars were running south to this point. It was expected that the machine shops of the Central road would be located here; but the Company subsequently determined to build them elsewhere, and consequently only a passenger house, freight house, &c., were erected here.

In the spring of 1852 the surveys for the Chicago, Alton & St. Louis Railroad were made through this county, and in the fall of the same year the work commenced thereon near this place. In the fall of 1853 the cars were running from Springfield here, and in the spring of 1854 the road was completed through from Alton to Joliet, making a complete and speedy connection between St. Louis and Chicago. This being the best and most central point on the road, the Company decided to establish their machine shops and offices here, which have been and still are of very great advantage of the city; bringing, as they have, a large and valuable class of citizens to reside among us, and employing an immense number of men as conductors, engineers, machinists, laborers, &c.

LaFayette, Bloomington & Mississippi Railway Company. This Company was chartered in 1867. and organized in September of that year. Its line runs from the City of Bloomington easterly through Saybrook and Paxton to a point on the Indiana State line, due east of LaFayette, Indiana. Its length is 80 miles. It connects at the State line with a road running easterly through LaFayette to Muncie on the Pittsburg, St. Louis & Cincinnati Railroad. Its subscribed capital stock is $467,000, owned by McLean & Ford Counties and the different townships along the line of the road. The grading to Saybrook, 25 miles is nearly completed and the grading and bridging of the whole line is now under contract, to be completed by the 15th August, 1870. The route of this Railway from Bloomington westward has not been definitely decided upon, but it will be soon fixed and the Road pushed westward. It is expected that the Eastern Division will be completed by January 1st, 1871. The head quarters of the Company is in Bloomington and its present officers are: President, A. Gridley; Vice President, J. E. McClun; Treasurer, C. W. Holder; Secretary, O. T. Reeves. The Executive Committee in whose hands is the building of the road, is composed of the following named Directors: A. B. Ives, Bloomington; W. H. Pells, Paxton; C. W. Holder, Bloomington; J. H. Cheny, Bloomington; O. T. Reeves, Bloomington. Col. R. P. Morgan jr., is the Chief Engineer of the Company and under his efficient management the Road is being built.

The Indianapolis, Bloomington & Western Railway. This is another new and very important line to the citizens of Bloomington. It already runs its cars from Danville on the Toledo, Wabash & Western Railroad to Pekin, with a prospect of the speedy completion of the whole route. We append an extract of the opening from the Bloomington Daily Leader of date May 2d, 1870. "At one o'clock, Sunday, May 1st, the last rails were laid, which completes the I., B. & W. Railway, connecting Pekin and Danville, via Bloomington. Dr. H. Conklin, the Bloomington director, to whom the honor peculiarly belonged, on account of the early and persistent interest he has taken in the enterprise, drove the last spike, and placed the last bolt which ties the iron track. This excellent hotel under the management of mine host, Mr. Samuel Owens, has undergone several decided improvements in all its departments. As one of the most important improvements we may mention the fact that Mr. Nelson Whitman has been employed in the capacity of steward, and his long experience as caterer in some of the first hotels in the country is ample guarantee that the best edibles the market affords, will be found upon the well filled tables of the National. The sleeping accommodations are truly excellent, and taken all together, we have no hesitation in advising the traveling public to stop at the National.

those of LeRoy, and Empire townships for their liberality, much credit is awarded for the right of way. The names of the officers, C. N. Griggs, the President; Thomas King, Chief Engineer; Wm. H. Smith, Superintendent of construction, and Mr. Gillespie, director, will be forever associated in the minds of our citizens with the achievement of this most important undertaking. The building of that part between Danville and Crawfordsville, which will be done by August, gives direct railroad connection with Indianapolis and the East by an air line. Some suitable public demonstration in commemoration of the event has been suggested as a graceful tribute to the company and officers.

Great credit for their foresight and public spirit, is due to those who used their influence in the location of the two depots—making one on the east and the other on the west side of the city, about three-fourths of a mile apart. This wise and judicious policy has caused the city to expand towards both depots, spreading the city out over a much larger area than it otherwise would have, and leaving uninjured the old and central portion of the city.

On the night of Oct. 16th, 1855, a large and destructive fire broke out in the stable attached to the Morgan House, and before the flames could be arrested every building on the block, except McLean County Bank, and Messrs. Dietrich & Bradner's hardware store, was laid in ruins. By it a large number of valuable citizens were suddenly deprived of storehouses, workshops and homes—leaving in their stead only the blackened ruins of a fearful conflagration. The loss was variously estimated at from 75,000 to 150,000 dollars.

The interests of religion and education have always been well and generously sustained in the community. The Methodists were the first denomination in the field, and held meetings for religious services at a very early day under the ministrations of Rev. James Latta, then upon their circuit. His field of labor was very extensive, embracing nearly the whole area of the State, and public meetings for whorship, were for a long time "like angels visits, few and far between." Services were held in the houses of the people, afterward in an old log schoolhouse, where the Roman Catholic Church now stands. The first regular church organization was effected in 1832, meeting in the frame building erected upon the square for a Court House. The first church building was erected in 1834. Mr. Latta seems to have been a man of a good deal of influence in the early history of the settlement, and an efficient and faithful minister.

The Presbyterian church had an organization in 1834. Rev. M. C. Gouch, being first pastor. The Campbellite and Baptist denominations established themselves in the place soon after, the Baptists erecting a substantial church edifice. There are at present in the city eleven church buildings, representing seven religious denominations, as follows: Methodist 1, German Methodist 1, African Methodist 1, Presbyterian 3, Baptist 1, Episcopal 1, Christian 1, German Lutheran 1; Roman Catholic 1, besides a number of others, having no settled place of worship. Nearly all of these edifices are of a very handsome and tasteful appearance, and some of them possess high claims to elegance in architecture and internal finish.

The first effort made toward establishing schools of a higher order was by Rev. Lemuel Foster, about the year 1856. He established a school for education in the higher branches, which he denominated an Academy, and which flourished for some time. Dr. Wm. C. Hubbs was one of the most successful. He had as pupils many who afterward became prominent in the history of the place and in other ways. He was a very useful man at public ceremonies and meetings in the early settlement of the place, always acting as master of ceremonies upon all public occasions, and being also a prominent member of the Masonic Fraternity upon its first location in the place.

The Methodists erected the first University in 1854. The Board of Trustees of Wesleyan University was organized in 1852, and the present building erected soon after as stated. About the same time Mr. Major erected, at his own expense, the buildings known as the "Female Seminary." It was at first conducted by the Campbellite denomination, afterward by other parties, but again reverted to the Church, for some years. It is now carried on by Prof. H. O. Snow, as principal, assisted by an efficient and able faculty.

The Normal University of Illinois was created Feb. 18, 1857, by an Act of the Legislature. The interest of the University fund was set apart for its support, with the express provision that no portion of the income should be used in procuring or erecting buildings, but that it should be established in that town or city which should contribute most liberally for its accommodation, provided the proposed situation was not objectionable. The city of Bloomington, McLean County, and individuals, contributed lands and other property, valued at $140,000, and the institution was fixed in its present location, during the summer of 1857. Work began at once on the building.

Charles E. Hovey, of Peoria, was elected Principal, and the school began Oct. 5, 1857, in rooms hired for that purpose in the city of Bloomington. The financial crisis, which immediately followed, caused a suspension of the work on the building for more than a year. At length, extraordinary difficulties having been surmounted, the house was so far completed that the school opened in its rooms at the beginning of its fourth year, in the fall of 1860. During one year more its first principal remained at its head, and its numbers and influence steadily increased. But in the summer of 1861, Mr. Hovey was commissioned as Colonel of the 33d Regiment of Illinois Volunteers, and four of the faculty and more than half of the male students accompanied him to the field. In the following Sept. the school commenced its 5th year, under the management of Perkins Bass, Esq., of Chicago, as Acting Principal. At the close of this year Richard Edwards, of the St. Louis Normal School, was chosen Principal, which post he still holds.

During the first term of 1866 the number of students in all departments of the Institution was 438, having increased steadily since the interruption in the summer of 1861.

The graduates and other students of the school are extensively scattered over the State, engaged in the work for which the commonwealth by its liberality and wisdom has fitted them; and this young institution bids fair to accomplish the great good its friends have hoped from it.

The Bloomington Observer, (weekly,) was the first newspaper published in Bloomington, or in the county, and was established in 1836 by Messrs. James Allin, sen., Jesse Fell, and Mr. A. Gridley, and edited by Wm. Hill, afterward for a short time by Mr. Fell. In 1838 the Observer espoused the side of the Whig party in politics. The name was changed not long after to the Western Whig, and the paper conducted by C. P. Merriman. In 1852 the name was again changed to the Bloomington Intelligencer, the paper again passing under the management of Mr. Fell, who sold out in a year or two after to Mr. Merri-man, and the sheet was baptized anew as the Pantagraph, by which it is still known. It was sold in 1856 to E. W. Foote, who published it until 1861, E. J. Lewis being the editor. It is now owned and published by the Pantagraph Company, composed of Jesse W. Fell, William O. Davis and James P. Taylor.

Other journals have been established at various times, and flourished for a brief period, to give place in turn to others, but none of them have survived for any length of time. Among them may be mentioned the Evening Argus, National Flag, afterward the Illinois Statesman, Illinois Central Democrat, Bloomington Times, and a number of others of more or less repute. The fire of editorial controversy, it may be assumed, waxed high at times, as we find in an old number of the Intelligencer a brief item to the effect that an article had appeared in the Flag containing a long array of abusive epithets against the editor of the former sheet, of which "dastardly whelp," "scoundrel," etc., were a great deal the mildest. "This, of course, brought on a personal encounter," continues the "responsible" editor, but adds the gratifying fact that "we were separated before either of us received any injury."

The history of ups and downs of newspaper life received an addition in the sudden demise of the Bloomington Times, which came to an untimely end at the hands of the 94th Regiment Illinois Volunteers in 1861, when they were quartered in Bloomington. The paper had become obnoxious to many of the citizens by reason of its Southern proclivities, and expression of sympathy for the States in rebellion, and the excitement became so great as to lead the soldiers, abetted by prominent citizens, to destroy the office and press, since which the paper has not been revived. There is now published two daily papers, the Pantagraph, (morning,) Pantagraph Company proprietors and publishers, and the Leader, (evening,) Scibird & Waters, proprs.

Bloomington is now busily engaged in manufacturing agricultural implements, steam engines, sash, doors, blinds, Plows, edge tools, &c. There are many new enterprises on foot at this writing, which will, no doubt, prove profitable investments to the parties concerned, as well as to the citizens generally. We note the erection of the Bloomington Stove Works, of which company Dwight Harwood, Esq., is president. The extensive Edge Tool Factory about to be started, or now in course of erection, also the new Rolling Mill of the Chicago, Alton & St. Louis Railroad Company. Among the Flouring Mills in very successful operation we mention the following: Union Mills, 4 story and basement, of brick, Perry & Gray, proprs.; the Eagle Mills, 3 story and basement, of brick, T. J. Cox, propr.; besides several others. There are two coal mines in successful operation, the Bloomington Coal Mining Company being proprietors of the north shaft, and the McLean County Coal Company, proprietors of the south shaft, each mining coal of excellent quality. Among the heavy agricultural implement dealers we mention Calais & Ball, and the old established firm of Harwood Bros., who also deal largely in Hardware. Maxwell, Batchelder & Co., and Miner & Hewitt, books and stationery. There are also many excellent houses engaged in the lumber business.

To conclude our brief sketch, it is only necessary to indulge in a passing allusion to the present of the city and its prospects for future prosperity. Possessing a situation second to none, and commanding the trade of a region richly blessed by nature, with all the resources of climate, and a soil of inexhaustible, and as yet, almost undeveloped fertility, improved by the hand of science and practical talent, abounding in an industrious and educated population, Bloomington has every advantage which her intimate connection with the great Agricultural interest of the county and State can bestow. Placed upon two lines of communication with the two great centers of Western trade—St. Louis and Chicago—and through them bound to the East and South, a vast field is opened to the activity and industry of her people. Further than this, she possesses in the enterprise and public spirit of her citizens and business men of all classes, a fund of never-failing strength and resources, upon which to draw for her future advancement in all that constitutes the honor and prosperity of a community.

The location of the city is very fine, being upon high ground, including a number of beautiful hills and slopes, affording delightful sites for residences, and insuring an excellent drainage through all parts of the city. It is an admirable spot in a business point of view; high and dry with excellent basements and cellars for storage, while the surrounding country is rich in groves of trees, beautiful residences and gardens, giving proof of wealth and culture to an unusual degree. In fact evidences of taste and refinement everywhere abound among her citizens, and give reason for the pride which they manifest in their beautiful city; and in addition to this, the location of the State Normal University, the Wesleyan University and the Public Schools are an honor to the district, while the Evangelical Churches are so numerous, so well appointed and so united in friendly intercourse, that it really adds a great charm to the location of the city.

The business of the city, is remarkably flourishing, and will compare favorably with that of any place of equal size in the State. The fine business blocks surrounding the square, and upon the principal business streets, are an honor to the city, and some of them hardly to be excelled even in much larger places. The accommodations for the traveling public afforded by the hotels throughout the city, are of the best character, and go far towards making it attractive to strangers and others who "love to take their ease at their inn." In a word for an enterprising, go-ahead city, combining the best facilities for business with all the refinements and comforts of a pleasant home, commend us to Bloomington.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

The present system of Free Schools was organized in 1857. The first Board of education consisted of C. P. Merriman, E. R. Roe, Eliel Barber, Samuel Gallagher, Henry Richardson, and R. O. Warriner.

Measures were inaugurated in April of 1857 to build what is now known as the 4th Ward School House. It was used for a number of years as the High School in connection with the schools of lower grades. Temporary buildings were also erected in other parts of the city as rapidly as required.

The schools were continued under the law and organization of 1857, until the year 1865 when the school law was amended, giving the Board of Education power to raise more money for school purposes. In the year 1863 the records show an enumeration of the children of the city to have been taken by the superintendent, J. H. Burnham, and the whole number of children in the city was found to be 4,085. In the same year Mr. John Hull was elected, principal of the High School, which position he held for several years. Mr. Hull graduated with the first class in the state, Normal University, and was connected with the schools after retiring from the school either as superintendent or member of the Board, until 1869 when he was elected County Superintendent of schools.

The schools continued to increase so rapidly that it was found by the Board necessary to provide more school rooms. In the year 1867, the law was again amended empowering the Board to issue and sell Bonds to the amount of one hundred thousand dollars to build additional School Houses.

The First Ward School building was erected in 1867, at a cost of $35,000, and will accommodate comfortably six hundred pupils. This building was filled to overflowing the first day, after it was opened for use. In August 1863 the present superintendent S. M. Etter, Esq., was elected, and he soon found that the accommodations for school room were far short of the demands. In August of the same year the Board of Education decided to erect a High School building on the corner of North and Oak Streets, also a new building in the Third Ward, on the corner of S. Water and Short Streets. Plans were at once drawn for both of these buildings. The High School building was erected at a cost of $46,000, including furnaces, furniture, out buildings, &c., and the Third Ward at a cost of about $38,000, including, furniture, &c.

The whole number of pupils in all the schools for year ending April 1st, 1870, was 2,405 and whole number in daily attendance 2,063.

The whole number of persons under 21 years of age in the city, is about 6,500, and of school age 4,300.

An election was held on the 21st day of May, and the people voted, authorizing the Board of Education to expend the sum of $50,000 in building additional school houses during the present year.

The public schools have grown very rapidly during the past two years, both in number and efficiency, and the citizens show by their action their appreciation of them.

The present Board of Education is made up as follows: M. W. Packard, Attorney at Law; Jesse A. Willson, Cashier of People's Bank; J. A. Jackman, Supt. of Machinery in C. A. & St. L. R. R. shops; T. F. Mitchell, of the firm of Whitmer & Mitchell; S. S. Parke, Editor of the Bloomington Democrat; M. Swann, Attorney at Law.

The officers of the Board are: M. W. Packard, President; J. A. Willson, Treasurer; S. M. Etter, Secretary.

S. M. Etter, Superintendent; office in High School building, corner of North and Oak Streets.

Soldier's Monument.

The monument erected by McLean County to her honored and heroic dead, is located in Franklin Square. It was designed and built by J. S. HALDEMAN, Esq., of this city. To those who have not seen it the engraving we show above conveys but a meagre idea of its classic beauty. The following is a detailed sketch of its size and general appearance: The lower base is built of Lemont limestone, thirteen feet in diameter. The marble base on the top of this is finished with a heavy carved moulding, on which stands four octagonal discs in the shape of a cross. On these discs are the names of about seven hundred soldiers that died in the service. On the top of these discs is an elaborately moulded cap, with the inscription—"MCLEAN COUNTY'S HONORED SONS: FALLEN—BUT NOT FORGOTTEN," engraved in large letters. On this cap, and directly over each of the four discs, stands a statue of a soldier, representing, first, Infantry, second, Cavalry, third, Zouave, fourth, Marine. These statues surround a large octagon disc, with heavy relief covering. On the four corners there are flags, accoutrements, &c. Above this disc is a second disc surrounded with a finely carved festoon of laurel. From this disc starts the main shaft, which is eighteen feet high, tapering gradually to the top, and surrounded with a cap, and a life size figure of a Colonel resting on his sword, holding in his right hand a field glass, and facing the South.

"The whole height of the monument is forty-nine feet from the ground to the top of the Colonel's head. It is the finest monument in the State, and one of the finest on the Continent. Its cost was $15,000. The artist Mr. Haldeman, made this his master piece, and it reflects great credit upon his genius, as it is superior in many respects to imported work. Mr. Haldeman is a large dealer in statues, monuments, &c., and persons who want superior work will not fail to call at his shop and witness his designs."

New Court House, Bloomington. Erected at a Cost of $400,000.

The Ashley House, Bloomington, Illinois.

In our advertising columns may be found the advertisement of the above Hotel, it is one of the largest and best kept houses in the State. It is an imposing brick structure. in the very business centre of the city, and is kept by that well known host, General Giles A. Smith, there are few know better how to keep a hotel than the "General."

The rooms are superbly furnished, being light and airy, with lofty ceilings, while the table is spread with the choicest viands, cooked in good style and served by attentive servants, the traveler feeling he is at home. Geo. E. Ostrom, Esq., who has been many years connected with the Hotel, is still at his post, truly may we say Major Ostrom knows how to make the guests of the Ashley comfortable. We strongly advise all visiting Bloomington, whether on business or pleasure, to give the ASHLEY their patronage, they will thus secure the comforts of home while the rate of charges is kept reasonable. See the advertisement of the Hotel, and then patronize it on your next visit to the city, when you will prove the truth of what we have advanced.

Steamer Young America, No. 2, (W. Jeffers Manufacture,) located No. 214 W. Washington street. Lee Harvey, Engineer ; Amos Kemp, Foreman ; C. E. Penn, Foreman of the Hose.

Prairie Bird, No. 1, (Hand Engine) located East street near Front. H. W. Carman, foreman ; W. Boyce, 1st Asst. ; L. Carman, Foreman of the Hose.

CEMETERIES.

The Bloomington Cemetery Association was organized April 1st, 1857. David Brier Esq., was elected President, and L. Graves Esq., Secretary and Treasurer, which position the latter gentleman has ably filled and is filling to the entire satisfaction of all, while the former gentleman held the presidency until last April, when he removed from the city, and O. T. Reeves Esq., was elected to that position.

The Cemetery Grounds are located at the east end of Fremont street and contain 40 acres, and are sufficiently remote from the business centre and every day life as to render the place a fitting abode of the dead. The site chosen is a beautiful one. Its rolling ground is pleasing and is interspersed with a natural growth of trees and shrubs, making its landscape beauty unsurpassed for the purpose designed. It is a beautiful secluded retreat, well adapted as a sacred spot for the reception of the departed, where monuments to their memory are preserved and cherished as a solace to the living. Many monuments and other valuable improvements are being made, which add beauty to and adorn the grounds, making it really the city of the dead.

THE OLD CITY CEMETERY

Is entered at the east end of Hardin street and adjoining the above. It contains ten acres, the two being under one enclosure.

BLOOMINGTON DEGREE TEMPLE, NO. 43, I. O. of G. T., was organized March 3d, 1865. Meets in Good Templar's Hall on the third Thursday of each month, in the evening. The officers for the term ending June 30th 1870: John M. Loving, W. D. T., Mrs. Annie E. Stettler, W. D. V. T., John W. McFadden, W. D. Sec'y. L. E. Munson, P. W. D. T.

BLOOMINGTON COLD WATER TEMPLE, NO. 1, is composed of children and youths under the age of 16. Has about 300 members, and was the first of the kind organized in the State. Though a separate institution and independent, and controlled by a Grand Lodge, yet it is under the direct supervision of the Bloomington and Veteran Lodges.

GOOD TEMPLAR'S HALL, in Liberty Block, is commodious, beautifully furnished, and undoubtedly the finest Templar's hall in the State. The great leading object of this order, which now numbers one half million, is to save the fallen devotees of Bacchus, and by holding each other up to keep from falling themselves, to promote temperance, and to destroy intemperance, that acknowledged bane and curse of all society. It is also educational in its teachings, and is doing a noble work in the cause of sobriety and morality. It merits the approbation and hearty co-operation of all true philanthropists.

Temple of Honor.

EMBLEM TEMPLE OF HONOR, NO. 13, chartered July 1st, 1852. Regular meetings every Monday night, at 7½ o'clock. Hall over McLean County Bank. H. Tyrrell, W. C. T., M. J. McGettrick, W. V. T., L. P. Richardson, W. R., W. S. Depew, D. G. W. T.

RURAL SOCIAL TEMPLE, NO. 5.—Regular meeting Thursday evenings, at 7½ o'clock, same Hall.

This Temple was organized with twenty two charter members, a number of whom are still working members of the Order.

The Order was originated by prominent Sons of Temperance, and the first Temple in the United States was organized on the fifth of December, 1845, and known as Marshall Temple of Honor, No. 1, Sons of Temperance, and located in New York.

In 1849, the National Temple severed all connection with the Sons of Temperance, and became a separate and independent organization.

Its foundation is the principles of Temperance and Fraternity, and its pledge binding until the end of life.

Local causes have impeded its progress in certain portions of the country, and its members seemed to fear that the whole order was retrograding; but the order still goes on, and is destined to be the leading temperance organization of the age, and its members may be counted on as regular life soldiers in the cold-water army.

The rituals in their diction and moral tone, compare favorably with those of any benevolent order in existence; its fraternal ties and benefits are sufficient to protect and relieve all its members when necessary.

This order was the first to secure the ladies influence. Other orders have since introduced this feature, but The Temple of Honor claims and is entitled to the credit of being the first to move in this direction.

The influence of Emblem Temple of Honor during its existence in Bloomington has been very beneficial, and many of its members who now are in the enjoyment of health and prosperity, made their commencement at the altar of the Templars.

Munsellian Literary Society of Bloomington.

During the college year of 1863, a small number of ardent, aspiring students of the Wesleyan University, met and organized themselves under the above title, for the purpose of acquiring greater originality and skill in oratory and Philosophical and Forensic disputation, their persistent and commendable labor has been rewarded by success. The Society has been rendered more permanent and its objects further promoted and encouraged by the Charter from the last Legislature. The sessions are held Friday evenings in their beautiful and well furnished hall, on the first floor of the University. Nearly three hundred students have availed themselves of its advantages, many of whom are now filling honorable positions in the Pulpit, Bar and Legislature.

Officers: C. O. Summers, president, C. A. Hazenwinkle, secretary, F. Sterling, asst. secretary, H. Davies, treasurer, Robert McKay, librarian.

Belles Lettres Society.

We may also mention as prominent among the Literary Associations of the city the above named Society, which was organized in 1859, under the auspices of a portion of the students of the Wesleyan University, for the purposes of literary culture and oratorical improvement. It has numbered among its numbers many of the Alumni of the Institution, who are now occupying honorable positions in the country, and who can justly refer their power as elegant and effective speakers to the thorough discipline which the Society has rendered them. The Society holds its sessions each Friday evening in their admirably fitted hall, on the third floor of the University. Visitors always invited. The valuable and well selected College Library is in this Hall.

The young men who are engaged in these two Societies, are nobly working in a most commendable cause, and should enlist the co-operation and patronage of all friends of literature and learning. Present Officers of Belle Lettres Society: president, C. B. Reynolds; vice president, Jas. A. Kelly; secretary, Geo. W. Read; asst. secretary, E. M. Haefner; chaplain, H. C. Birch; treasurer, J. W. Denning; librarian, F. M. Bishop.

Bloomington Musical Union.

Organized 1869. Regular meetings Monday of each week in the High School building. Officers: A. B. Coe, president; R. F. Evans, secretary; F. A. Parker, Director. This Society was organized several years since, for the purpose of bringing before the people in a series of home concerts, a better class of music than had been attempted by church choirs and occasional conventions.

For the last two years it has been under the leadership of Prof. F. A. Parker, a thoroughly educated musician from the Boston Academy. The Society meets weekly during the Fall, Winter and Spring months, and its concerts are among the most popular of musical entertainments. Thus all classes for a nominal sum, have the benefit of first class musical instruction.

Library Association.

The Bloomington Library Association, the successor of the Ladies' Library of Bloomington, was chartered by the Legislature of Illinois on the 23d day of Feb., 1867. According to the provisions of the charter all members of the late Ladies' Library, who were not in arrears for dues or fines on the 1st of March, 1867, were declared members of this Association. All the property of the late Ladies' Library was vested in this Association. Meetings held 1st Saturday evening of each month in the Library room at 405 N. Main. Open every week day from 2 to 6 p. m.. Saturdays, 2 to 6 and 7 to 9 p. m.

Officers—Geo. W. Parke, President; Mrs. J. A. Jackman, Vice President; B. F. Hoopes, Treasurer; Frank Price, Recording Sec'y; C. P. Capen, Cor. Sec'y.

Executive Board—Mrs. W. M. Hatch, Mrs. J. N. Ward, W. E. Hughes, E. M. Prince.

Librarian—Mrs. H. R. Galliner.

Trustees—Hon. J. M. Scott, George W. Parke, John Magoun.

The above officers serve until the first Saturday in March, 1871.

Every citizen of the city should become a subscriber of this association, as the cost is a mere trifle, while it is one of the best and most extensive libraries in this section, containing over 4000 volumes.

German Benevolent Society.

This society was organized about 14 years ago. Its object being what the name indicates, for the assistance of its members during sickness. It numbers 126 members, and is in a flourishing condition. Meetings are held on the first Monday in each month, at their hall over 108 W. Front. Michael Salzman, President; Charles Lamp, Vice President; Louis Frey, Sec'y; Frederick Foltz, Treas.

Hibernian Benevolent Society.

Meetings held first Thursday in each month, at their Hall, 218 N. Centre Street. John H. Regan, President; Michael Martin, Sec'y; Philip Ryan, Treas.

McLean County Bible Society.

Organized 1850, and is an auxiliary of the American Bible Society of New York. Meetings are held in February or March every year. Depository at Maxwell, Batchelder & Co.'s Book store, 214 N. Centre Street. Officers, W. H. Winegardner, President; D. Wilkins, Sec'y; J. W. Maxwell, Treas.

Medical Society.

McLean County Medical Society, organized March 20th, 1854. Meetings held Monday of each week in Drs. Noble & Bradley's office, northeast corner Main and Grove Streets. Officers, Dr. H. Noble, President; Dr. A. H. Luce, Vice President; Dr. R. D. Bradley, Sec'y; Dr. S. W. Noble, Treasurer.

McLean County Agricultural Society.

Organized 1851. Fairs held in September of each year. Officers, W. L. Bosworth, President; E. Horr, James Boulware, Vice Presidents; R. E. Brown, Treas.; Dan Holder, Cor. Treas.; J. T. Dedlake, Secy.

Bloomington National Guards.

Organized September 1869, meet the second Thursday evening in each month, at their hall over the People's Bank, Washington Street.

Officers: Henry Honscheidt, captain; Adolph Benecke, 1st. lieutenant; Henry Kuhlman, 2nd lieutenant; Joseph Engelken, orderly sergeant; Charles Virgils, 1st duty sergeant; Charles Luth, 2nd duty sergeant; August Shernickau, banner bearer; Fritz Haker, quartermaster sergeant; Fred Lemme, Christ Haker, Louis Haker, Herman Spies, Henry Becker, Christ Kuntz, corporals.

Bloomington Sharp Shooters Association.

Organized March 31st, 1869. Meetings held first Tuesday of each month at Chas. H. Gmehlin's Gun Shop. Officers: Charles H. Gmehlin president and treasurer; Julius Lehman, secretary; Robert Curty, sergeant at arms.

Bloomington Turn Verein.

Organized April 20th, 1855. Business meetings in their Hall 109, S. Madison street, first and third Friday in each month. Meetings for practice, Tuesday and Thursday of each week. There are 55 members in good working order. Officers: R. Richter, president; G. Wagenfeuhr, vice president; C. V. Hase, rec. secretary; George Klein, cor. secretary; Charles Trimter, treasurer.

Bloomington Turn Gemeinde.

Organized March 1870. Business meetings held second and fourth Monday in each month, in their hall 1008 W. Chestnut. Meetings for practice Monday and Thursday of each week. Officers: H. Gerbhardt president; Frederick Behr, secretary; Mat Hausen, treasurer; Augustus Frederick, teacher.

NEWSPAPERS.

THE DAILY AND WEEKLY PANTAGRAPH.—This is a well established paper, the oldest in Bloomington, the WEEKLY now being in its twenty-fourth year, and the Daily in its thirteenth. It is Republican in politics, one of the largest papers in the State, well supported, of sterling merit and ably edited. Connected with this printing house is a large and complete job office, with steam power, possessing great facilities for book and job work of every style and price, the Pantagraph Company enjoys a high reputation for the excellence of its work in this line. The proprietors, manager and editors are energetic and thorough business men, and as such, we commend them to the public. Terms of Daily delivered by carrier, 20 cts per week or $10.00 per year by mail. Weekly $1.50 per year or $1.00 per six months. Office n e corner Centre and North Streets.

THE LEADER.—It is with pleasure that we chronicle the establishment of the Leader. "Its publication was commenced in November 1868, by Messrs. Scibird & Waters, former owners and proprietors of the Pantagraph. Their success as newspaper men has been assured from the first. The people of Bloomington and McLean county have given abundant assurance that they are indebted to those men for a new era in successful journalism in Central Illinois. Their adaptation to the calling of their choice, is proven by their measure of success. Naturally men of energy and possessing qualities which peculiarly fit them for serving the public, they unite in making a live newspaper for their patrons. The Leader has already reached a circulation equal to any other paper published in this portion of the State, and is every day growing in strength and increasing the number of its patrons. Those who regarded it at first as an ephemeral enterprise, now respect its suggestions and court its influence. It is popular among the common people. It is published for them and advocates their interests, and defies the threats of corporations and cliques. It gives special attention to city and county affairs and is the friend of manufacturers and home improvements, and the ally of every movement that looks to the education of the masses. The universal good of humanity is their only pet theory, and to meet the broadest ideas of democracy in the highest sense of that word. They retain as their editor, B. F. Diggs, a man reared a farmer and whose sympathies are all with the laboring man, a republican from the beginning, and who makes no compromise with factions or individual aims, but defends the right in the interest of the whole people. It is creditable alike to its founders and the great and prosperous section it so well represents.

THE BLOOMINGTON DEMOCRAT has now been established over two years, and although its success has not been of the most flattering nature, still it has been tolerably satisfactory. It is a well printed sheet, spicy in its editorials, and is democratic in politics, and being the only democratic paper published in McLean County, should commend itself to those of that political party. In connection with this paper is a good and well supplied job office, with a foreman who thoroughly understands his business, so that those patronizing this office may depend upon getting good and well executed work. This paper is edited and published by S. S. Parke, Esq., an old and respected resident of Bloomington, whom it is useless for us to eulogise as he is so well known, as a gentleman of integrity. Subscribe for and advertise in this paper, ye democrats of Bloomington and McLean county, and help at least to support one Democratic paper.

THE BLOOMINGTON REPUBLICAN, was commenced in May 1865, under the editorial charge of Major S. P. Remington, well known for his gallant military record in Virginia and Louisiana. It was published as a daily, but not meeting with success financially, was converted into a weekly, which has prospered and grown ever since, and is a good lively sheet. It is now under the charge of A. B. Holmes & Co., and has been since its (weekly) commencement. In connection with this paper is published THE REPUBLICAN ADVERTISER, issued every Tuesday and Friday, one thousand copies printed with each edition, thus making the paper one of the best advertising mediums in the West. To advertisers it is distributed gratuitous. In connection with this paper A. B. Holmes & Co., have one of the best of Job Offices, all material being selected with great care. They have the celebrated Gordon and Degener presses, together with a large size power press, which enables them to turn out as good printing as any office in this vicinity. Office, lower Phoenix Hall.

THE TEMPERANCE STANDARD.—This is a seven column paper, issued every Thursday morning, at 210 N. Centre Street, and is, as its name indicates, devoted to temperance and legal prohibition. It is ably edited by the publisher J. W. Nichols Esq. Subscription price $1.50 per annum.

BLOOMINGTON ANZEIGER.—This is a German paper, edited by Gustavus Clemen, Esq., and we believe has a good circulation and is well patronized. It is published weekly at the Pantagraph office.

DEUTSCHE VOLKS-ZEITUNG, is the name of another German paper recently established, and is edited by Carl Visofski and published at 114 W. Washington Street. It being a German paper should commend itself to that nationality in our midst.

GENERAL EDITORIAL REVIEW

EMBRACING

Manufacturers and Prominent Business Houses,

In the City of Bloomington, Ill.

The following notices, are not paid for in any instance. They are given free of charge, it being the intention of the editor of this work to point out to his readers some of the best places at which to purchase goods, showing where reliance may be placed upon representations made with regard to price and quality of goods sold. There are many houses in Bloomington, it would afford us much pleasure to speak of in a more extended manner, but our space limits us to the following remarks.

The Bloomington Coal Mining Company. North Shaft.

We take great pleasure in calling our readers attention to this the pioneer Coal Company of McLean County. In 1865 some of our enterprising young men undeterred by previous failure, determined to prospect for coal and on boring found it at almost 320 feet, and in the Fall of 1866 the present company was formed, and a shaft sunk to the fresh vein, and in 1868 to the second vein about 400 feet from the surface. The Company is composed of some of our most wealthy citizens, and have already spent over One Hundred Thousand Dollars in opening the mine, which is now in a fine condition and fully prepared to raise any quantity of coal wanted. The second vein which is the only one now worked, is about five feet thick, the coal is hard and bright, more nearly resembling the famous anthracite of Pennsylvania than any other of our Illinois coals, it does not slack by exposure to the air, makes very little soot ashes or clinker. This Company has gained a very high reputation for their coal, by the very careful manner in which it is mined, screened and selected, the Company aiming to send out none but the very best coal in the very best condition. Those who have used it for that purpose, pronounce it a superior article for steam purposes. In fact the Bloomington Coal has almost entirely driven out all the foreign coals that were brought to our city in such large quantities. The development of this mine annually saves many thousands of dollars to our citizens, having reduced the price of coal from seven and eight to three and a half dollars per ton, besides aiding vastly to develop the manufactures of Bloomington, for without the coal, manufactures could not flourish but with cheap coal, the hard lumber of Indiana and southern Illinois, the pineries of the North, iron, lead, copper and cotton in abundance within easy reach of our railroads, with the food at our doors to feed many thousands of people, Bloomington with its enterprising, wide awake spirit, may become a great manufacturing center like Lowell, Manchester or Birmingham, and for this she will be indebted to the Bloomington Coal Mining Company more than to any other instrumentality, for coal is the only load stone that attracts the manufacturing wealth and enterprise to our city. With the rapid increase of the population of our city and county, the increased consumption of coal, and the new manufactures springing up, and the opening of our new rail roads we anticipate a bright future for this Company. The officers of the Company are Geo. W. Litchenthaler, president; E. M. Prince, secretary; Dwight Harword, treasurer; H. M. Senseney, general agent.

Ezra M. Prince, Attorney and Counsellor at Law.

It affords us much pleasure to refer to the advertisement of the above gentleman, who is considered to be one of the best lawyers in the city. Mr. Prince has resided in Bloomington since 1857, and has practiced law during that time, he has worked to a successful issue many very intricate cases to the great satisfaction of his clients. Mr. Prince is also a notary public and gives his personal attention to the collection of debts and claims, rarely failing to close up all such business speedily and satisfactorily to all parties concerned—he also fills the responsible position of secretary to the Bloomington Coal Mining Company, and knowing him as intimately as we do, we cannot close our remarks without again saying that prompt and faithful settlement may always be relied upon, by those placing their business in his hands. Remember his office is over E. C. Hyde's store, on the north east corner of Main and Washington Streets.

The Bloomington Insurance Company.

The Bloomington Insurance Company as will be seen by the heading is a home institution. The stockholders all being well known and reliable men. The Company was organized on the first of May, 1867, John M. Scott, John E. McClun, John Magoun, Peter Folsom, George W. Parke, and Robert E. Williams, being the Incorporators. The original capital stock was $100,000, which was on the 1st of January, 1869, increased to $200,000 all paid up. They do a business throughout the State of Illinois, which is steadily increasing as the Company enjoy a reputation for soundness and honorable dealing, second to none, the Directors are all prominent men, and are well known at home and abroad, their names are a sufficient guarantee that the Bloomington Insurance Company is well managed. We mention the following names among the Directors: Asahel Gridley, President McLean County Bank; John E. McClun, Banker; John Magoun, Banker; George W. Parke, Banker; Hon. David Davis, Judge U. S. Supreme Court, Bloomington; John M. Scott, Judge 8th Judicial District; Corydon Weed, Banker; Jesse W. Fell, Chas. W. Holder. Get a Policy in the Bloomington Insurance Company, you will then have a sure and safe investment.

J. E. Niccolls, China Glass and Queensware.

We feel proud in noticing the elegant store of the above named gentleman. It is No. 312 N. Main Street, Minerva block, and is 25 feet front, 80 feet deep, and has a well finished and neatly arranged basement under the whole of the store. This enterprising young gentleman has recently bought out Mr. Willever, and moved his own goods into the above store and has also just received a large importation of new goods direct from manufacturers, and now has an immense stock of China Glass and Queensware of the best quality, and most elegant patterns and designs, together with Crockery, Cutlery, Plated and Japanned Ware, and every thing connected with the trade. The store presents an appearance well becoming a city the size of Chicago. Mr. Niccolls is a young man full of energy and business tact, thoroughly studying the wants of the public—his motto being good goods, quick sales and small profits. Those persons in want of anything in his line, will do well to call and examine his stock and prices, and we have no doubt that they will be fully satisfied to place their orders in his hand. Remember the location, Minerva block North Main Street.

B. R. Baughen, Diamonds, Watches, Jewelry & Silverware.

We are pleased to find one store in Bloomington in the above line which we may appropriately designate as first-class. This is the old established and well known one of our friend B. R. Baughen, who has one of the nicest and most carefully selected stocks of Diamonds, gold and silver Watches, jewelry and silver plated ware, to be found outside of Chicago. Among his stock of watches we may mention those celebrated time keepers, manufactured by the Waltham and Elgin Companies. Also those of the celebrated Howard make, any of which cannot be beat as time keepers, or in price, in the known world. He also has a good selection of the justly celebrated Seth Thomas Clocks, together with a fine line of beautiful jewelry of the latest and most stylish designs, while his stock of coin silver and plated ware, gold and silver mounted ebony walking canes, it would be difficult to equal. Mr. Baughen is an old and respected business man, he having resided in Bloomington the past 12 years, 10 of which he has been in business on his own account. He is deservedly popular with those who know him, as to know him is to respect him. Mr. B. assures us that he sells each article in his store at a small advance over actual cost, and after enquiring the prices for some of his goods we are inclined to believe he is even lower than many for goods of a like quality. We strongly advise all wishing anything in Mr. Baughen's line to step into his store, examine the goods and prices, before placing their orders, and we think satisfaction is sure. Remember his store is number 113 N. Main between Front and Washington streets.

Harwood Bros., Hardware and Agricultural Implements.

This business is twelve years old, and came into the hands of Harwood Bros. some eight years ago. It is the largest of the kind by far of any similar institution in the city or vicinity, their business amounting to between 150 and 200 thousand dollars per annum. Dwight & D. B. Harwood are the proprietors, and judging from their success in business, and the satisfaction given by them in price and quality of goods to their patrons, we arrive at the conclusion, that they are well up to their business, and well deserve the liberal encouragement so extensively bestowed upon them. Their store is located at 212 N. Centre street, is 28 feet front, three stories high and basement, and extends through the whole block to 209 N. Madison. They deal in all kinds of hardware, stoves and tinware, blacksmith's and wagonmaker's stock, scales, pumps, all kinds of agricultural implements of the latest and best make, and other articles too innumerable to mention, altogether carrying a stock of a hundred thousand dollars. In consequence of the extent of the business done by this enterprising firm they are enabled to offer advantages to the public, both wholesale and retail equal to Chicago Houses. Therefore those wanting anything in their line will do well to call and place their orders with this responsible and reliable firm. Dwight Harwood, esq., is also president of the Bloomington Stove Company, whose works are located near the north coal shaft, and are nearly ready for operation.

Maxwell, Batchelder & Co., Wholesale Stationers.

The wholesale book and stationery trade of Bloomington has grown into large dimensions. The business of the above firm has been established many years, about 15, and now ranks as one of the most extensive of the kind in central Illinois. In speaking of a house of this character we cannot recommend it in too strong language, as each individual composing the firm are such thorough gentlemen, gentlemen who are widely known for their fair dealing and liberal inducements offered in business. Neither can we, in too strong language, commend it for its facilities, for they possess facilities equal to any other house in the west, as they buy direct from manufacturers, the same as other prominent houses elsewhere. To give the reader some idea of their stove business we may say, the store is 22 feet by 100, 3 stories high and basement, each room literally groaning under its load of stock. They carry about one hundred thousand dollars worth of goods, their sales amounting to a large sum—the amount we did not learn. The trade of this house extends through all of Central and Southern Illinois, dealers in this section finding that it is profitable to buy of Maxwell, Batchelder & Co., as they can successfully compete with Chicago and St. Louis houses, buying as they do from the same manufacturers, while their expenses, are considerably less. In conclusion we will not say anything in the way of eulogy of any individual member of the firm, as their high principle and integrity is too well known, but we would ask those who have not bought goods at this house to do so and test the truth of what we have written. Their store is 214 N. Centre st.

Perry & Gray, Union Mills.

Messrs. Perry & Gray's (the Union Mills) Flouring Mills are located near the Illinois Central Depot, they were built in 1867, and were bought by the above gentlemen about one year ago, they are six stories high of brick, have five run of stone, and a capacity for manufacturing 250 barrels per day, and are said to be the best arranged, most extensive and magnificent mills in central Illinois. They have large cribs adjoining for storage, besides room for storing 15,000 bushels in the mill. Messrs. P. & G. have every facility for shelling corn and handling all kinds of grain. At these mills an article of flour is manufactured said to be unexcelled in this section, a large amount of which is shipped south, and commands the highest price, while they also do a large 'home' trade; in consequence of their increasing trade, they have just put in a fine new engine of 80 horse power, and boiler and other repairs to the amount of $5,000, and henceforth will be able to fill their accumulating orders. Captain Perry is also partner with his father, William Perry, Esq., (who by the way has done business in this city for the past twelve years, and is looked upon as one of our substantial and reliable merchants,) while Mr. Gray has been known in this vicinity for the past four years, and the position which they hold to day as worthy and honorable gentlemen, renders it unnecessary for us to make further remarks. We wish them still further success.

Thomas J. Bunn, Insurance Agent.

We almost feel it unnecessary to mention the name of our worthy Mayor, for he is so well known and so well respected, that anything we may say, will only be a reiteration of what has been said so often, but as we are engaged in a work of this character, and as it is our privilege to say just what we see fit, and as it gives us pleasure to speak of old citizens and business men, those who have borne the burden and heat of the day, in building up our beautiful and flourishing city, we will say that Thomas J. Bunn, Esq., is one of our oldest citizens and business men, having been here since 1833, the time when his father came "West" from Ohio, and established the first blacksmith shop and plow manufactory in Bloomington. At this time T. J. was very young, hence has grown up with the city, and for many years has taken an active part in encouraging everything set on foot for the benefit of the place. We believe he has held the office of city collector, alderman, &c., and is now filling the responsible office of Mayor, to the entire satisfaction of the citizens of Bloomington. Mr. B. continues his Fire Insurance Agency as heretofore, and those who are not already insured should call at his office and be insured at once, and thus make provision against what may overtake any of us at any moment, viz Fire. See his advertisement back of title page of this directory and note the responsible companies he represents.

Hayes & Evans, Lumber Merchants and Contractors.

The business of Hayes & Evans is suggestive of what hard practical work and honorable dealing will accomplish. Fourteen years has elapsed since the firm was established, at which time it was small, but during the whole of that time it has gradually increased, until now they do an immense trade. They are both practical carpenters and builders, understanding every branch of the business, and this together with their judgement and indomitable energy and perseverance, is the true cause of their success. They do everything known to the building business, have their own planing mill, manufacture their own mouldings, siding, sash, doors, blinds and building material generally, besides having a large lumber yard adjoining their mill. Hayes & Evans employ quite a large number of hands, and do business to about $120,000 a year. This firm is as well prepared to take contracts for all kinds of buildings as any in this section, and have been awarded some of the most prominent contracts in this neighborhood. Their location is 511 N. Centre St., where persons wishing to engage their services or wanting a bill of lumber should call.

J. H. Merrick, Dry Goods.

One of the best and largest stocks of Dry Goods may be found at the above named gentleman's store, 308 N. Centre Street, Ashley House block, to be found in Bloomington. Mr. Merrick has had many years experience in this business, nine years in this city and understands the quality of goods, and the best places at which to buy the same. One feature in regard to his stock is well worthy the notice of buyers, that is the fact that his stock is all new and of the latest designs, and having bought them since the great decline in dry goods, he is enabled to offer them at less prices than he otherwise could do. Those wanting any kind of Dry Goods, Silk and Dress Goods, Notions, Hosiery, Laces, (of the celebrated Nottingham make,) Trimmings, Shawls, &c., will do well to take our advice and call upon Merrick, and our word for it they will come away satisfied in price and quality of goods.

K. H. Fell, President Bloomington Manufacturing Co.

The Bloomington Manufacturing Company has been in existence many years, having grown from small dimensions to its present large and beneficial capacity. We say large because its facilities are unequalled by any similar institution in this part of the country, and beneficial because through the enterprise of K. H. Fell Esq., from 70 to 80 individuals are found employment, while the business amounts to about $100,000 per annum. Mr. F. is one of our oldest citizens and business men, for his advent in this city dates back to 1836, since which time he has practiced Law and been engaged in various business enterprises, and now is the sole stock holder of the above Company. This Company is prepared to manufacture agricultural implements, steam engines, mill gearing and general machinery, iron and brass castings, sash, doors, blinds, mouldings and building material of all kinds. They are also general builders and contractors, and are now erecting the State Reform School, at Pontiac, Ills., which contract they received last fall—and the building is now well under way. The Bloomington Manufacturing Company are now manufacturing among their innumerable other machinery, the celebrated Graham Mower and Reaper Combined, which is said to be the best thing ever introduced into the market. A Mower and Reaper which must be seen and used to be fully appreciated. We might speak at considerable length on the merits and advantages of this institution, but will conclude by saying to the public that anything in the above line will be furnished on short notice, of the best order and at reasonable figures. The known character and reliable name of K. H. Fell, in connection with the establishment is sufficient to inspire confidence in the public mind.

W. B. Probasco, Proprietor Burch House.

One of the most successful men in Bloomington, is the above named gentleman, he came to this city in 1863, at which time he became clerk at the above House, but not feeling satisfied with that position, he aimed at a higher mark and ere long he became the landlord of said house, and now we believe is part owner of the same. This is a good illustration of what hard work and indomitable energy will accomplish. The "Burch" is located southwest corner Front and Madison Streets, near the centre of the business portion of the city, being adjacent to the Court House, Post Office, places of amusement, &c., and is managed by Mr. Probasco himself, assisted by Mr. Hancock, a worthy and obliging young gentleman. The house has recently been cleaned throughout, thoroughly painted and additional new furniture has been put into many of the rooms, so that persons wishing to be accommodated at reasonable charges should make a note of the "Burch." This house has become quite popular of late and well patronized as the long list of names daily to be found on the register demonstrates. Mr. P. informs us that nothing shall be lacking on his part to make guests comfortable, who may favor him with a call, while the charges shall be satisfactory. The house will accommodate about 125 guests. Note the location south-east corner Front and Madison Streets.

Hunter & Wright, Tobacconists and Liquor Dealers.

The above named gentlemen have opened with a large, well selected stock of wines, liquors, tobacco, cigars, and smokers' articles generally, at 116 W. Front st., corner Centre, where they will be glad to see all who appreciate good goods and reasonable prices. Mr. Hunter has had considerable experience in the business, (being for several years associated with our esteemed friend General G. F. Dick,) and is well qualified for buying at first hands, while Mr. Wright, who has been among us for several years, is possessed of good business qualifications, and plenty of energy, therefore the public will, by patronizing them, not only benefit Hunter & Wright, but also themselves. Their stock is well selected and worthy of inspection by intending purchasers. We hope this firm may meet with large success, as they are in every way worthy of liberal encouragement. Remember the address, cor. Centre & Front streets.

N. N. Winslow & Co., Soap and Candle Manufacturers.

The manufactory of the above firm is called "Central Illinois Soap and Candle Works," and has been established since 1855, since which time we believe Mr. N. N. Winslow has been connected with it. The firm consists of N. N. & C. M. Winslow, both of whom are practical men, and are thoroughly acquainted with every branch of the business. We believe this is the only manufactory of the kind in this section, and we hear it said that the Winslows can successfully compete with any foreign market, in articles in their line. As an evidence of their success and consequently of their reputation, we may say that on commencement their business was very small, but now averages about sixty thousand dollars per annum. The works are located at 416 South Main st. This is where the business is done. They have also another large place about  $1\frac{1}{2}$  miles south west of the city for the purpose of rendering grease and tallow, which is run by steam. We are glad to hear that the business of the Winslow Bros. is still increasing, which success we believe they justly merit, as their soap, candles and oil is spoken of and eulogized, both by private individuals as well as the Railroad companies, the latter of whom use large quantities of their manufacture. Send in your orders to N. N. Winslow & Co., and satisfaction is certain, if indeed the right thing is at all satisfactory.

R. D. Bradley, Physician and Surgeon.

We are pleased to yield a portion of our space to a notice of Dr. Bradley, who has practiced successfully in Bloomington and vicinity for several years past, and is a gentleman well worthy of public confidence. He graduated at the Jefferson Medical College, Philadelphia, in 1867, since which time he has been a resident physician in this city, and has gained a good reputation as an efficient and practical physician and surgeon, and takes rank among our foremost professional men. The Doctor does not believe in making large pretensions, but simply announces himself as a physician and surgeon, and we believe those who may engage his services once will prove by doing so that he is well up in the profession. We take pleasure in recommending Mr. Bradley to the public, as a gentleman of ability, talent and practical worth. His office is over 120 South Main street, Liberty block.

C. Wakefield & Co., Manufrs. Wakefield's Family Medicines.

Dr. C. Wakefield removed to this city from Isabelle, DeWitt county, in 1850, after several years successful experience, with his brother, Dr. Zera Wakefield, long since dead, in the sale of his celebrated Fever and Ague Specifics, as well as in his ordinary practice. In this year he commenced the manufacture and sale of this medicine, having added to it Blackberry Balsam, Cough Syrup, Cathartic Pills and Egyptian Liniment. During the past ten years he has found it necessary to add Worm Lozenges, Eye Salve, Liver Pills, Wine Bitters and Bowen's Rat Killer, in the preparation of which he has been remarkably successful. This large and justly celebrated establishment is located on East Washington street, the main building being 40 by 100 feet, three stories high including basement, of brick, with another large building adjoining, where the boxes in which medicines are shipped to different parts of the world, are manufactured and stored, ready for use. We believe this is one of the largest medicine manufactories in the United States. Wakefield's medicines stand "A" number one in this country. Their ready and increasing sale, together with the thousands of testimonials received from all parts of the states, is good evidence of their merits. At this place some thirty-five hands are employed, and over $100,000 invested in the business. These medicines are sold at very low rates, and in nearly every instance, where called into requisition in time, and properly used, save a doctor's bill.

Brokaw, Ellsworth & Co., Plow Manufacturers.

We believe the well known Plow manufactory of Brokaw, Ellsworth & Co., is the oldest established one in central Illinois. It is located at the corner of Market and Main streets, and is a fine imposing structure of brick, two and a half stories high. The blacksmith shop being 75 by 37 feet, where are six or eight forges in operation. The wood shop being 68 by 38 feet, besides engine and grinding room, &c. At this place are manufactured the celebrated "Bloomington Clipper Plows," of which over 2000 per annum are turned out, giving employment to about twenty hands. We may say here that the three gentlemen comprising this firm are among our oldest business men and citizens. Mr. Brokaw having resided in Bloomington 33 years. Mr. Ellsworth 32 and Mr. Gregory over 20 years. Each having worked at his trade all this time, and superintend their own special department in the business. One reason why they have gained such great popularity in their business is each is considered very efficient at his trade. We hope their trade may increase in the future as in the past, for no more deserving men are carrying on business than they.

William K. Dodson, Wines and Liquors.

The well arranged and well stocked store of Wm. K. Dodson, esq., is located at 107 W. Front street. This business was established in this city some seven years ago by Mr. D., since which time he has gradually built up a large and good trade at this establishment. Great inducements are offered to retailers, as he buys his stock at first hands, hence is enabled to share profits thereby obtained with his customers. Foreign and domestic brandies, wines, liquors, bitters, fine ales, &c., are always kept in full supply, all of which we believe are of the best brands, and this we may say is one reason at least of his successful business career. But this is not all for while we believe that he is one of the most honorable spirit merchants, he is one in whom the fullest confidence may be reposed. To know Dodson is to respect him.

F. K. Phoenix, Proprietor Bloomington Nursery and Garden.

The old established and large nurseries of F. K. Phoenix, esq., are known almost all over the United States. They were established in 1852, and have 600 acres under cultivation. Not only are plum, pear, apple and cherry trees and the smaller fruits cultivated here, but all the desirable varieties of evergreens, and rare deciduous trees together with ornamental shrubs, roses, dahlias and the hardy herbaceous perennials' bulbous roots, &c. It has been the aim of Mr. Phoenix to cultivate ONLY such varieties of trees and plants as have proved hardy and profitable, and will not disappoint the planter, for experience has proved that many of the most highly prized fruits and flowers of the east are utterly worthless in the west, hence his motto has always been "Western trees for Western orchards." By honest propagation, and upright and fair dealing, this establishment has won for itself an enviable reputation. Every article sent is warranted to prove true to name, and the proprietors word in relation to the value of any variety is sufficient. Mr. P. has every facility for shipping all kinds of trees and plants unsurpassed by any nursery in the west, and the extent of his nurseries enables him to offer inducements unexcelled.

J. L. Wolcott, Undertaker.

Our worthy and esteemed friend, J. L. Wolcott, is one of the oldest of Bloomington residents and business men. He came here in 1843 and commenced business as cabinet-ware manufacturer, when this city could only boast of a population of some 500 or 600 inhabitants. During these many years which have elapsed since his coming here, he has ever been ready and found willing, to help forward every enterprise that he considered tended to promote the welfare of the city, and now he continues to do business among us, and witnesses the then infant city, numbering nearly 20,000 souls. In 1850, after manufacturing furniture for seven years, he established his present business, and now, after twenty years experience, is considered the undertaker of Bloomington. He keeps on hand a full supply of wood and metallic coffins, caskets, &c., of all styles and quality. Also keeps a fine hearse and ever stands prepared to give personal attendance at funerals. The warerooms are located at the corner of Main and Grove streets, and manufactory at 907 S. Main street, at which places he is ably assisted by his two sons, William H. and Edwin N. Mr. W. has also made himself famous in this city an "Apiarist," having at the present time 160 hives of bees, and has on hand a stock of the best honey. We cannot conclude these brief remarks without saying that Mr. Wolcott is one of our most honorable business men, and one worthy of every confidence.

Calais & Ball, Standard Farm Machinery.

Particular attention is called to the advertisement of this firm opposite the title page of business directory, for there are enumerated some of the many kinds of agricultural implements in which they deal. They are located at 115 North street, adjoining the Pantagraph office, where they ever stand ready to show farmers and others the advantages of the machinery for which they are agents and in which they deal. Their stock is large, and the fact that Mr. Calais has had years of experience in the business, Mr. Ball has been brought up to the business, is sufficient guarantee that they understand which are the most valuable implements, and they inform us, will deal in none other. To enumerate all the articles in which they deal would occupy more space than we can devote, but we may mention their excelsior threshing machine, manufactured at Goshen, Ind., which is said to be the best in use. Carriages and Wagons manufactured at the same place. The star corn planter and corn cultivators of the best make. The Joliet manufacturing Co.'s Tornado, iron beam plows, which are very durable. Also Prairie State corn shellers, of the same manufacture. Their reapers are also well worthy inspection. These gentlemen are energetic and enterprising and well deserve the liberal patronage hitherto bestowed upon them. Farmers will find their prices as reasonable as at any other house and terms to suit. Call and see them at 115 North street, adjoining Pantagraph office.

John Ollis, Bloomington Foundry Machine Shop.

Our old and respected friend John Ollis Esq., is still proprietor of the Bloomington Foundry & Machine Shop, he has been engaged at the business in this city for the past sixteen years, and proprietor of the above works for the last seven years, his works are large and supplied with everything necessary for efficiently carrying on the business, all machinery being of the most improved manufacture, while the hands employed are of the first order. Mr. O. having had so many years practical experience at the business, and understanding thoroughly every branch of the same, he is eminently qualified for doing all work in a superior manner. Some of his work may be seen by examining the fine 25 horse power engine of J. Mayers & Son, woolen manufacturers, together with another in his own shop, which is a double vertical one, 30 horse power, the only one of the kind we believe in this section. Persons doing business with Mr. Ollis may truly feel satisfied of being dealt by fairly, as all his actions are characterized with integrity. Location corner Allin and North Sts.

Cox & Miller, Plasterers.

There is perhaps nothing adds more to the beauty and appearance of a dwelling or store, than its "plasterial" finish, and we are reliably informed that Messrs. Cox & Miller are just the ones to do such work in a superior manner. Both have had long practical experience in the business, the former fifteen and the latter twenty years in this city, and this fact, together with the satisfaction given in contracts finished by them during that time, will no doubt commend them to the public. All kinds of plain and ornamental plastering is done by them, in fact everything known to the trade. Those wishing old work made new, or new work done should call upon them at 211 W. Clay St., corner of Madison.

John H. Bryant, Carpenter and Builder.

At 706 W. Front St., John H. Bryant may be found ever ready to put up any kind of building. He has had twelve years practical experience in Bloomington, and has during that time erected some substantial residences, all contracts are superintended by himself personally, and by that means, he being a good workman and desirous of giving satisfaction, the work is well executed. From ten to fifteen men are employed by him, and it is his aim to engage only those who thoroughly understand the trade. As a faithful contractor and good workman we feel no hesitation in recommending John H. Bryant to the citizens of Bloomington and vicinity.

Cox & Wilson, Painters.

Without men skilled in the art of painting, how miserable would our homes and other places look, and with the skillful use of the painter's brush how comfortable the same are. Mr. Wentz thought thus when he erected his fine residence, and employed Cox & Wilson our prominent painters to put on it the finishing touch of comfort. The work done in this house, as well as many others in this city, proves beyond doubt that Messrs. C. & W. are well up in their business. They have been established a number of years, and have become familiarly known as men who understand every branch of the painting business, while they employ the best of workmen. Those who would look neat and have their work done well, will do a good thing by calling upon Cox & Wilson, 110 W. Washington Street.

Rudolph Richter, Architect.

After working at the architectural profession twelve years in this city, R. Richter has become well established and very favorably known, some three years ago he opened an office on his own account, since which time success has attended his labors. It will be sufficient to name a few of the buildings he has designed in this city to prove his ability as an architect, the are: Minerva Block, on Main St., Livingston's Block, corner Washington and Centre Sts., Mr. Franks', Henry Prevost and D. Kern's residences and the Wesleyan University which is in course of erection, he also superintends the latter building. On inspection of the above buildings it will be seen that Mr. R. possesses taste and displays skill in his profession. Those wishing to consult him will find his office at 208 N. Centre St.

N. Diedrich & Co., Founders and Machinists.

The Union Foundry and Machine Shop were erected about a year ago, at 407 S. Centre Street, adjoining the I. B. & W. Railway, by N. Diedrich, who has had 14 years experience in this city as moulder, and John Levenuth who has had 17 years experience in the city as pattern maker. They have associated with them Robert Loudon, with 7 years business career in Bloomington and who is one of the best machinists in the West. At this place Steam Engines are built, also house, bridge, and fence castings, and all kinds of machinery manufactured and every thing pertaining to a Foundry and Machine Shop. The machinery is run by steam power, all of which is new and of the latest improved manufacture, so that with these facilities together with the proprietors long practical experience. We have no hesitation in saying that all who may favor them with an order will not have cause to regret having done so. Remember the Name is, Union Foundry and Machine Shop.

Kadgihn & Neuerburg, Saloon and Restaurant.

Those wishing to enjoy themselves in partaking of a good glass of wine, lager, &c., or benefitting themselves physically by getting a good and substantial meal, will do well to bear in mind the Saloon, Wine Hall and Restaurant, of the above firm located at 118 N. Centre Street, for here may be obtained anything in the above line, in a clean, tasty manner and at a price which must be satisfactory to all persons who believe in the common saying, "live and let live." Our friend Kadgihn has been a resident of Bloomington since 1853, and is one of our reliable business men. The same may be said of Mr. Neuerburg, who has been here since 1858. This place is large and well kept, and well deserves the liberal patronage bestowed upon it.

J. S. Haldeman, Marble Works.

It is often supposed that good work in the marble and monument business cannot be obtained anywhere except in a few of our large cities, this is a mistake, as is evinced by the superior talent exhibited and work produced by Mr. H. since his establishment in Bloomington. This business was established by the Haldeman Brothers in 1851, continued by them until 1860, when J. S. Haldeman Esq., the present propr., bought the whole interest, since which time he has succeeded in building up an enviable reputation as a sculptor and monument designer, and builder. Mr. H. has had 15 years practical experience at the business, and he along with his Brother J. R. acting as superintendent personally, supervise all their own work. He has become quite famous for the numerous monuments he has completed recently, among which number we give the following: Tazewell County, at Delevan; Hon. Isaac Funk's, at Funk's Grove; and is now engaged on a magnificent one for the late James McLean Esq., of this city; but his master piece is the McLean Soldiers Monument, erected in Franklin square. The lower base of which is built of Lemont limestone, thirteen feet in diameter. The marble base on the top of this is finished with a heavy carved moulding, on which stands four octagonal discs in the shape of a cross. On the top of these discs is an elaborately moulded cap. On this cap, and directly over each of the four discs, stands a statue of a Soldier, representing, first, Infantry; second, Cavalry; third, Zouave; fourth, Marine. These statues surround a large octagon disc, with heavy relief covering. On the four corners there are flags, accoutrements, &c. Above this disc is a second disc surrounded with a finely carved festoon of laurel. From this disc starts the main shaft, which is eighteen feet high, tapering gradually to the top, and surrounded with a cap, and a life size figure of a Colonel resting on his sword, holding in his right hand a field glass, and facing the South. The whole height of the monument is forty-nine feet from the ground to the top of the Colonel's head. It is the finest monument in the State, and one of the finest in the Country. Its cost was $15,000. Mr. Haldeman, made this his master piece, and it reflects great credit upon his genius, as it is superior in many respects to imported work.

J. M. Chapman, Insurance Agent.

We know of none it gives us more pleasure to speak of than J. M. Chapman, who has now been in our midst for the last 5 years. He represents the reliable Knickerbocker Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York city. This is one of the oldest Life Companies in the United States, issues Policies on the most liberal terms and has assets of $7,000,000. All policies issued by this Company are non-forfeitable, while dividends are on the contribution plan; hence it will be seen each policy holder shares the profits made by the Company. Persons intending to insure their lives, should call upon Mr. Chapman, when he will explain fully the advantages and benefits to be derived by insuring in the Knickerbocker Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York. All business is transacted promptly, as there is no need writing to New York. The officers being empowered to do all business in this district, the same as at the parent office in New York. Chapman's office, 116 West Washington Street.

Mayers & Houser, People's Mills.

These mills have been run many years by J. Mayers Esq., one of our most successful business men, but now are principally managed by his son-in-law, Mr. Houser, the firm name being Mayers & Houser. They have two run of stones, with a capacity of turning out six barrels of flour per hour. We believe Mr. H., has had considerable experience in the business and understands fully the kind of flour the people want, and he informs us that an article of flour can be obtained at his mills which cannot be beaten, the same is true of feed. Those wishing to find and do business at the People's Mills will find them at 409 S. Main Street, where the last named gentleman will be found happy to supply all comers.

H. J. Brown, Pure Wines and Liquors.

Mr. Brown has by the opening of his establishment filled a want long felt, by enabling those desiring a pure article of wines or liquors of any kind to obtain the same at reasonable rates, and warranted strictly pure. Mr. B. informs us that he keeps none but the purest and best brands that can be found, buying most of his stock direct from N. Y. He has an article of pure old Bourbon Whisky which cannot be beat anywhere, either for fine flavor or purity. Those wishing wines or liquors for medicinal uses, (which should of necessity be the purest,) may rely upon being well and faithfully served by Mr. Brown, while his store, for neatness in appearance and central location, is second to none. Remember he is at No. 109 N. Main near Front street.

William Bone, Boots and Shoes.

This gentleman having had many years experience in the above business—13 years in Kenosha, Wis., 6 years in Winona, Minn., and several in Chicago—has just opened with a well selected stock of fine boots and shoes at 316 Main st., Minerva block, and he informs us that all his goods are of the very best make, and marked down at the lowest figure, which statement we think is fully borne out, according to samples examined and prices asked. We have known Mr. Bone for some little time, and take pleasure in recommending him to the favorable notice of the citizens of Bloomington, and hope they may extend to him liberal patronage. Remember store 316 N. Main st., Minerva block.

Clarkson Toms, Real Estate.

Now-a-days, when speculation in lands and city lots has almost become a mania, and while there are so many "jumping" into the real estate business, we may often hear the question asked by intending purchasers, where shall I buy and of whom? All such enquiries, and intending purchasers, we would particularly recommend to C. Toms, Esq., a gentleman of known integrity, one who has lived in Bloomington for the past 16 years, and who has had 10 years real estate experience in this city. He is successor to Weed & Toms, and has a large number of lots and tracts of lands farms, &c., to dispose of, all of which will be sold at the most reasonable figures. Persons intending to purchase real estate should make a note of this gentleman's location, n e cor. Centre and Jefferson sts., where, if they call, they may rest assured the right thing will be done by them, and the most liberal inducements offered.

Miss S. A. E. Walton, Pianos, Organs, Melodeons and Musical Merchandize.

We are pleased to notice the fine music store of Miss Walton, located at the corner of Main and North streets, in Minerva block. It is one of the finest stores in the city, and there is kept in stock a full line of Pianos, Organs, Melodeons, Violins, Guitars, piano stools, and covers sheet music, together with picture frames, mouldings, croquet sets, base balls and bats, &c., &c. Miss W. is considered to be the only successful lady music dealer in the United States, she being held in high regard by this community, in which she has done business for many years, this is the only music house in the city. Among her stock of pianos we may mention the celebrated Steinway, Schomaker, with others of leading Boston and New York make. Also the celebrated Burdett Organs. We advise all when wanting anything in Miss Walton's line that they cannot place their orders with a more reliable person, as she sells as cheap or cheaper than instruments of like quality can be purchased elsewhere. Remember the store is cor. Main and North sts.

St. Joseph's Academy.

Attention is called to the advertisement of the above institution which will be found in this directory. The school is large and convenient, and has eight teachers, Sisters, besides the Mother Superior. The number of scholars is about 220. Terms, &c., will be found fully explained in the advertisement, which are reasonable considering the superior accommodations.

G. H. Read & Brother, Hardware, Stoves and Tinware.

Attention is invited to the stock as above of G. H. Read & Brother, who are located at the old stand, No. 205 N. Main street, where they have been for many years. Their stock of hardware, stoves, tinware, japanned ware, cutlery, &c., is very complete, and the proprietors assure us they will continue to sell their goods at as low figures as can be afforded, only leaving them a small margin for profits. The Messrs. Read have resided in Bloomington ten or twelve years and have occupied the one store nearly the whole of that time. They are both esteemed as honest capable business men, and are held in high estimation in the community. We have the pleasure of knowing this firm ourselves, and have no hesitancy in saying customers need have no fear of being well satisfied both in price and quality of goods, who place their orders with G. H. Read & Brother. Remember the location. No. 205 N. Main street.

Col. John E. Wray, Attorney and Counselor at Law.

The attention of those wishing to place their business in qualified legal hands, is called to the card of John E. Wray, whose office is over 205 N. Main street in J. F. Pancake, esquires office. Col Wray has practiced law upwards of twenty years, the last six of which he has resided in Bloomington. We believe the Colonel came here from Corinth, Miss., or that vicinity. He has, we understand, made many friends in this locality, and we do not doubt but those who may place their business in his experienced hands will be fully satisfied at having done so. Remember his location is over No. 205 N. Main street, in the office of J. F. Pancake.

E. C. Hyde, Merchant Tailor and Gents Furnisher.

Mr. Hyde's store is located on the north east corner of Main and Washington Ss., and is well stocked with a good selection of cloths, cassimeres and vestings, gents furnishing goods of all kinds, traveling bags and valises, umbrellas, &c., all of which he assures us he sells at reasonable prices, he has secured the services of a popular New York cutter, and is fully prepared to make gents' garments of every quality and style, and guarantees a good fit in every case, he is also agent for H. E. Smith's patent perforated Buckskin under garments for ladies and gentlemen, the following is an extract from their circular: From the numerous testimonials we have from those who have worn the Perforated Buckskin Under garments, we are prepared to recommend them with the greatest confidence, and to guarantee them to be all we have represented them, as a preventive and cure for Rheumatism, Sciatica, Neuralgia, Sore Throat, Quinsy, Lung Disease, and the very many ills caused by colds. We claim them to be a great preserver of health—a great protection against the sudden changes of our climate—the lightest, most comfortable and healthy under-garment ever offered to the public. Being perforated, they do not retain the moisture of the body as do the non-perforated, and are fully endorsed by the Medical Faculty, keeping the body in an even degree of heat. Those who wear and do not find them as represented, we will in all cases, refund the money. In all cases to be worn over sufficient weight of flannel to absorb perspiration. These goods wash equally as well as flannel if cold soft water and Castile Soap are used.

Remember the store is on the n e corner of Main and Washington Sts., east side Court House square.

Joseph F. Pancake, Justice of the Peace & Collecting Agent.

To those having business before a Justice, or wishing claims collected in a prompt and reliable way, we recommend Mr. J. F. Pancake, who was elected to the office of Justice of the Peace at the election in April last and whose term will not expire until April 1874. Mr. Pancake was born and reared in this place, and is well and favorably known throughout the city and county as an honest capable man. Mr P is a lawyer by profession, and therefore will be the better able to dispense justice, which we doubt not he will, to all alike who may wish his judgement in any case, he will also attend to the collection of debt and claims, giving prompt attention to their speedy settlement, his office is very central, being over No. 205 N. Main, between Washington and Jefferson streets, we have the pleasure of knowing Mr. Pancake and heartily recommend him to all needing his services. Remember his office is over 205 N. Main St.

Boerns & Hoevener, Hardware, Stoves and Tinware.

The above firm have one of the most complete stock of hardware, stoves and tinware to be found in the city. Their store is located at No. 417 N. Main street, and is 22 by 99 feet. They have also a large workshop in the rear of the store, where all kinds of sheet iron work, coppersmithing, tinsmithing, &c., is done. They have been in this business in their present store about 4 years, are both practical men and thoroughly understand their business. Buying their goods in the best markets and selling every article at close figures, from a comparative small beginning, they have by their honesty, and fair dealing, worked up their business to its present size, and now do a yearly trade of about twenty-five thousand dollars. They employ several competent workman, and turn out none but first class work. Both Mr. Boerns and his partner, Mr. Hoevener, are genial whole souled gentlemen, with whom it is a pleasure to do business. We advise all those wanting a first class Black Prince or Resor Monitor cook stove, or a gas burner, parlor stove, any article of hardware or farmers tools, tin or japanned ware, or anything else in their line, that they cannot place their orders with a better firm than Boerns & Hoevener, as they guarantee satisfaction in both price and quality. Remember when wanting anything in their line that their store is located at No. 417 N. Main street, between North and Market sts. Spouting, roofing, and job work done on short notice and in the best manner at low rates.

J. H. Melliush, Jeweler.

It is generally considered that this gentleman is one of the best watchmakers and jewelers to be found. He learned his trade in England, where he served a full apprenticeship and has had 14 years practical experience in Bloomington, five of which he has been in business for himself and the success which he has met with during that time abundantly proves all we have said. His store is located east side Court House square, where he keeps on hand a full assortment of all kinds of watches, clocks, jewelry, cutlery, &c., all of which are of the best make and which he warrants. One feature of his business is well worthy of notice, and that is, he imports direct watches and a great variety of miscellaneous articles belonging to the trade, and by this means secures the best and is thereby enabled to offer the same at close figures. When wanting anything in his line don't fail to call, for by doing so, you may rest perfectly satisfied of all goods being found as represented.

Nelson Loar, Physician and Surgeon.

Dr. Loar is located on Main corner North street, where he is to be found ever ready and willing to treat all the ills we poor mortals are heir to, eases of cancer are the Doctors' specialities however, and on a recent visit to his office, we were shown numerous cancers in bottles, which the Doctor had successfully removed, without the aid of caustic or knife, and without any loss of blood, many patients in Bloomington and vicinity testify to Dr. Loar's skill in the treatment of cancer, and we heartily endorse his ability. He graduated and received his diploma from the Physio Medical College of Cincinnati, in 1866. Dr. Loar has the only instrument in McLean county known as Hadfield's Equalizer, he having not only bought the machine, but the right to use it in this county, the benefits of its use are acknowledged in all cases of chronic diseases such as rheumatism, neuralgia, diseases of the lungs and female complaints all of which we are assured are treated successfully, we recommend those suffering from any disease whatever to call on Dr. Loar and be made whole. Remember his office is on Main corner of North, up stairs.

Miner & Hewitt, Wholesale and Retail Books, Stationery, &c.

The above firm have one of the nicest stores and locations in the city, they being at No. 215 North Main, 2nd door south of the Post Office, both Mr. Miner and Mr. Hewitt, have had large experience in the Book and Stationery line. The former having been in the business quite a number of years in Bloomington, while Mr. Hewitt, who came here from El Paso, Illinois, is considered to be well up in business qualifications, and a reliable and affable gentleman. In their stock may be found a choice variety of books of history, travel, the arts and sciences, novels, &c., while their line of stationery is full and of fine quality. They deal largely in paper hangings and window shade, always keeping a large stock from which customers may select the desired lot; they also keep pictures, picture frames, mouldings, blank books, magazines, periodicals, gold pens, cutlery of excellent quality, writing desks, work boxes, croquet sets, fancy goods in large supply and variety, &c. We advise all who may wish anything in their line, that entire satisfaction will be given on placing orders with Miner & Hewitt. The store is No. 215 North Main, near the Post Office.

A. S. Burrows, Real Estate Dealer.

Attention is called to the advertisement of Mr. Burrows, which may be found in the Business Directory in this work. He attends to the buying and selling of real estate, pays taxes, examines titles, rents houses, &c., he has a choice list of Kansas, Iowa and Missouri lands on sale at low prices. Mr. Burrows, wishes those desiring bargains in real estate, either in the city of Bloomington or elsewhere, to call upon him at his office and examine his list. He is located at No. 205 North Main Street, with squire J. F. Pancake & John E. Wray, and will be glad to do his best to satisfy all intending purchasers. Those wishing to rent Houses in the city or who wish to find Tenants, will do well to place them in the hands of Mr. B. Remember his office is with squire Pancake, No. 205 North Main Street.

O. S. Cummings & Co., Grocers, Fruit Dealers and Com. Mer.

It is an easy thing to keep a grocery, and although there are many such stores in Bloomington. We do not know one in which a greater variety of goods are kept, and goods of such excellent quality and at such cheap rates, as that old established store on the corner of Main and Jefferson Streets, kept by our friends O. S. Cummings & Co., who are successors to R. F. Evans, who kept the said store for many years prior to selling out to the present proprietors, and who made a reputation for honesty and fair dealing, which Messrs. Cummings are determined shall be kept up. The store is in an excellent location for both Bloomingtonians and those resident in Normal, and as they keep all kinds of staple and fancy groceries, fruits, green, dried, and canned, butter of No. 1 quality, cheese, the choicest quality of teas and coffees, flour, meal, as well as wooden and willow ware, all of which they offer to the public at the lowest living rates, and which they deliver to customers free of charge. We strongly advise consumers to call on Cummings & Co., for their next supplies, and thus prove the truth of what we here say. They solicit consignments of fruits and produce from the country for which they will pay the highest market rates. Both the members of the firm have lived in the city for a number of years and have established a reputation as honest, capable men, and we do not hesitate to say they will deal fairly by all those who may favor them with their orders. Remember the store is corner of Main and Jefferson Streets.

O. B. Stiles, Manufacturer of Cigars and Tobacco.

To lovers of a good cigar and to those who would wish to obtain a good quality of chewing or smoking tobacco, we recommend a visit to the store of our friend O. B. Stiles, who is manufacturer of many choice brands of both clear Havana and seed and Havana Cigars. His brands are all good, but the following we have tried ourselves and can testify to the fine flavor of the tobacco, and ease and regularity in smoking, we allude to the "Social Belle" and "Marriposa," we think it would be difficult to obtain a finer cigar anywhere than those of Stiles manufacture. He has recently moved into his new store No. 310 North Main Street, and has in stock choice cigars, fine cut chewing, plug, smoking tobacco, snuffs, meerschaum and other pipes, and smokers articles of all kinds. Mr. Stiles has been in the cigar business since boyhood and therefore understands the quality of the stock which he buys. He has been in business here three or four years, and during that time has done a fair share of the jobbing and retail trade of the city and vicinity. Orders from the country filled promptly and at living rates. Remember his store is No. 310 N. Main, next door south of the Minerva Block.

Courtright & Crawford, Dealers in Millinery & Straw Goods.

The above firm are located in very pleasant rooms, at No. 109 West Jefferson, under Scibirds Photograph Gallery, the first stairway west of Kirkendall, Pierpont & Co. dry goods store, and have a choice stock of Millinery and Straw Goods, Hats, Bonnets, artificial Flowers, a fine line of Bow and Sash Ribbons, Velvets, Feathers, Fringes, &c. They buy their goods direct from the Eastern markets, obtain the lowest rates and give their customers the benefit in low prices. They have a dressmaking department, conducted by Misses Mack & Slawson, who are considered to thoroughly understand their business. Ladies you are advised to call and inspect their beautiful stock of goods, and so be convinced of the superior quality as well as low price. Remember first stairway west of Kirkendall, Pierpont & Co. dry goods store on Jefferson Street.

M. Swann, Justice of the Peace, Real Estate & Collect'g Agt.

We have much pleasure in referring to our old time friend M. Swann, Esq., who has recently been re-elected for another term of four years, to the responsible office of Justice of the Peace, his present term expiring in April, 1874. Mr. Swann has been a resident of Bloomington about seventeen years, twelve of which he has been in business, a portion of the time being in partnership with O. T. Reeves, Esq., under the firm name of Reeves & Swann. Mr. Swann has now succeeded to the business, and attends to the paying of taxes for non-residents, also buys and sells real estate and collects debts, for the transaction of all of which, he possesses peculiar facilities. Knowing Mr. Swann to be thoroughly reliable, we heartily recommend him to all persons having claims, which they wish collected quickly and on reasonable terms, those who wish their taxes paid, and those wanting to buy or sell real estate, he has some choice city lots as well as good Iowa and Kansas lands on sale. Persons from a distance having business which they wish attended to in Bloomington may address Mr. Swann to his post office box No. 647, Bloomington, Illinois. His office is located on the corner of Main and Jefferson streets, north east corner of Court House square. Don't forget M. Swann when wishing any business properly attended to in his line, he refers to all the business men of this city for whom he has done business during the many years he has been in his present responsible position.

N. & M. Heldman, Merchant Tailors and dealers in Gents' Furnishing Goods, Hats, Caps & Furs, Trunks, Valises &c.

There are many persons who will no doubt be pleased, to have pointed out to them where they may purchase a good article of clothing, either ready made or made to order and measure, also where they may find the largest variety, best and cheapest stock of hats, caps and furs, gents' furnishing goods, trunks, traveling bags, valises, cloths, cassimeres and vestings &c., we therefore take pleasure in referring to the old established house of N. & M. Heldman who occupy the two elegant stores, Nos. 208 Centre street and 119 N. Main street, in the Centre street store presided over by our esteemed friend Myer Heldman, may be found a full line of ready made clothing, hats, caps, furs, gents furnishing goods, trunks, traveling bags and valises, paper collars, &c., while in the store No. 119 N. Main, where N. Heldman, Esq., may be found, is kept a splendid line of cloths, cassimeres and vestings, merchant tailoring is made a speciality at the latter store, and we hear it said that garments turned out by N. Heldman, cannot be excelled for fit and style. Their cutter Mr. Peter Gratz, is conceded to be one of the best cutters in this vicinity, and one who never makes a miss-fit, while their prices either for ready made clothing or clothing made to order is quite as low, and often lower than is charged by others. Nathan & Myer Heldman, the sole proprietors of the two stores above named, have been residents of Bloomington a many years, N. H. having lived here about fifteen years, and Myer Heldman about thirteen years, and have been in business together for the past eight years, they are both energetic, enterprising men, and are held in high esteem by all who know them, they never allow their goods to be misrepresented, and charge no more than the goods sold are actually worth in the market, thus by honesty and fair dealing, they have built up for themselves a large city and country trade, and made themselves a name which they are determined to keep. We strongly endorse N. & M. Heldman, and recommend all those, (either in the city or country) who may wish anything in their line, to call and examine their stock and prices, and we will guarantee purchasers entire satisfaction, they do an immense business, buy all their goods in the best markets, and thus obtain them at the lowest cash rates, therefore it may easily be seen why they are able to offer their customers superior bargains in all the different branches of their business. Remember N. & M. Heldmans, 208 Centre and 119 N. Main Street.

Perrigo & Coblentz, Drugs, Medicines, Chemicals, Paints, Oils, Glass, Varnishes, Wines, Liquors, &c.

We feel a degree of pride in refering to the firm of Perrigo & Coblentz, the well known leading drug house of Bloomington, who are successors to the old established drug business of Thompson & Lewis, they have a splendid location, their store being No. 109 W. Jefferson street, north side of the Court House square, while their facilities for supplying articles of the best quality and at satisfactory prices, are unequaled by many, they deal largely in drugs of all kinds, medicines, paints, oils, glass, putty, varnishes, zinc, white lead, cigars and tobacco of fine quality. while their stock of wines and liquors for medicinal purposes, are of the purest brand and choicest quality in the market. Both Mr. Perrigo and his partner Mr. Coblentz are practical druggists, understanding their business in its every part, they purchase all their goods in the best markets, obtain cash rates, and give their customers the full benefit of low prices. We know both the members of this reliable firm, and give them our best endorsement as fair dealing, intelligent gentlemen, with whom the public will find it a real pleasure to trade, they make it a point of being kind, obliging and courteous to all. To all those who may favor them with their patronage, we earnestly wish to impress the above facts upon their minds. They also compound physician's prescriptions, written in any language, in the most careful and exact manner, either night or day. The public will please bear in mind what we here say, and remember the advantages offered by Perrigo & Coblentz when wishing anything in their line. The well known German apotheker and prescriptionist, Charles V. Hase, is with this firm. The store is No. 109 W. Jefferson street, north side of the Court House square, the old stand of Thompson & Lewis.

Jacob S. Ross, Proprietor Bloomington Pump Factory.

At No. 405 North East street is located J. S. Ross' Pump Factory. On a recent visit we were kindly shown 'round the place, and saw a large stock of pumps ready for shipment, as well as many in various stages of manufacture. Mr. Ross informs us he has been in this business about fifteen years. He manufactures suction, force and chain pumps. His anti-freezing force pump is claimed to be superior to all others. It will not freeze in the most severe weather, and by attaching hose to it the water may be forced from 50 to 75 feet with perfect ease. This pump is highly recommended. Mr. Ross is also patentee of the celebrated Sorosis Washing Machine, which for simplicity in working, the ease with which clothes may be washed clean by it, and its low price, we think cannot be excelled. The Sorosis Washing Machine, with care, will endure a life-time, and the retail price is only $15. Mr. R. has State, County and Town rights for sale, and any young men who may be desirous of making money, if energetic and reliable, will do well to call on or address Mr. Ross on the subject.

His post office address is box No. 212 Bloomington, Ill. Mr. Ross has lived in this city since 1849, over 20 years. So seeing that he is so well known, (and to know him is to respect him,) we will close our few remarks by advising all those in want of any kind of pump to call upon J. S. Ross. He also puts up all kinds of lightning rods, and warrants his pumps, work and prices, to give entire satisfaction. Remember his location, No. 405 North East street.

Theodore Haering, Physician and Druggist.

We feel pleasure in saying a few words about our friend, Dr. Haering, who is a well qualified physician, as well as having one of the finest and best stocked drug stores in Bloomington. The doctor has resided in this city about three years, and although such a short time, it has been sufficiently long for him to win the esteem and confidence of the public, not only as a reliable and experienced physician, but as a genial, wholesouled and public spirited man. Dr. Haering came to this city from Green Bay, Wisconsin, where he was in business several years, and in which place he left many warm friends. The doctor's store is well stocked with drugs, medicines, fancy goods, toilet articles, paints, oils, glass, varnishes, brushes, &c. We recommend Dr. Haering as a reliable physician and druggist. Physicians' prescriptions are carefully compounded, day or night. His store is located at No. 413 N. Main street, near the Academy of Music.

W. H. & G. C. Ross, Gen'l Fire and Life Insurance Agency.

It is conceded by every sensible man to be the duty of all to provide for their families in the best way possible. But as dame fortune is generally reputed to be fickle, it often happens that much misery is entailed upon families, as well as individuals, by unforeseen circumstances, such as fire, sickness, accident and death. In view of these facts it appears to us to be the duty of all to see to it that their houses and stores, stocks of goods, as well as their lives, are insured. Also that they be insured in reliable companies, that is in companies having ample assets with which to meet their liabilities. To all those interested in securing reliable insurance, either fire or life, we recommend the agency of W. H. & G. C. Ross, located in Smith's building on the corner of Centre and Jefferson streets. They represent many of the very best companies in the country. From their list we mention the following fire companies: The Continental, with assets of $2,359,000, the Franklin, with $2,825,000, the Yonkers and New York, with $1,000,000, the Independent, with $631,000, the Connecticut, with $371,000, the German, with $126,000, and the Bloomington, with $221,000. They also represent the old and thoroughly reliable John Hancock Life Insurance Company of Boston, with assets of $1,500,000. Thus they represent a total capital of Ten Million Dollars. These gentlemen are known for the prompt and satisfactory manner in which all losses are settled. They are both old and respected residents of Bloomington, and should command the patronage of the community, as we feel sure all who place their policies with them, in any of the above companies, will find they acted wisely. Their office is easily found, being on the corner of Centre and Jefferson streets, opposite the Ashley House.

M. L. Moore, Saddles and Harness.

The oldest saddler in Bloomington is M. L. Moore, esq., whose finely finished and furnished store is located at 114 S. Main street. He came to this city in 1851, and of course, at that time began in a small way, but by energy and perseverance, good work, fair prices and honorable dealing he has gradually increased his business until now he does a trade of about thirty thousand dollars per annum, employing ten to fifteen hands. He manufactures all kinds of saddles, harness, whips, &c., but makes a specialty in fine harness, samples of which we have examined, and for lightness, strength, neatness and we presume durability, it would be difficult to excel. Mr. Moore's name is almost synonymous with first class saddles and harness, while he is a gentleman whose word may be fully relied on and one of our most enterprising business men.

W. M. Taylor, Commission Merchant.

Bloomington has become quite an important city in the eyes of the world. She has increased in her wholesale houses, in her manufactories, in her retail houses, in her population, to such an extent of late years, that now she is looked upon as the second city in the state. But notwithstanding her prominence, she has lacked in some things, among which we may mention commission houses. Her rich surrounding produce country, and her direct communication by railroad to almost any point north, east, south or west, give her facilities which many cities do not possess. Our friend W. M. Taylor, esq., seeing so good an opening for such a business we have mentioned, after having had considerable experience in this city with Dalton & Co., and the widely known and popular firm of Watson, Waddle & Co., has opened a Produce and Fruit Commission house at 105 W. Front street, the only house we believe of the kind in the city, where it will be to the advantage of those wishing to dispose of their produce, or those wishing to buy, to call. He is a young man of high principle and well worthy of confidence. See his responsible references.

Armstrong & Minshall, Props. of Bloomington Dray Line.

In speaking of the progress of Bloomington we also take pleasure in speaking of some of those individuals who take a prominent part in building up the city. It has long been deemed necessary for some person or persons to establish a transportation line here, and we gladly note the fact that Messrs. Armstrong & Minshall, have established such a line. They have recently erected a barn, which is one of the most substantial and well arranged ones in this neighborhood. It is 35 by 120 feet, two stories high, having ample accommodation for fifty horses. The upper floor is used for feed, hay, &c., being large enough for storing some ninety tons of the latter. It is lighted with gas and made the most convenient we have seen for some time. They have about forty horses and about twenty drays, trucks, spring wagons, &c. With their facilities it will be seen that they are capable of moving any kind of merchandise, household furniture, pianos, &c., with dispatch, either in the city or country, and in the safest manner and at the least possible expense, as they have experienced draymen and all other advantages for the purpose. Let it be seen by liberal patronage, that their enterprise is appreciated. Their office is 115 N. Centre street, where all orders should be left.

McClun, Holder & Co., Home Bank.

The Home Bank of Bloomington was first opened for the transaction of business in October 1861, at 106 W. Washington street. This Bank does a large business, and is one of the permanent institutions of our city. The well known character of the gentlemen connected with it is ample guaranty of its safety, reliability and permanency, they being J. E. McClun, who has resided in this city over thirty years, C. W. Holder, who has resided here sixteen years and is of the responsible hardware firm of Holder, Milner & Co. John Magoun, esq., who is a thirty years resident, and one of the most liberal and respected men in the city. C. W. Munsell, who has lived here upwards of fourteen years, and last though not least, J. W. Whipp, esq., who has been in the city and connected with the bank since 1864. They do a general banking business, issuing drafts on all the principal cities of Europe.

John T. Walton, Plow Manufacturer.

The business of the above named gentleman was established so long ago as 1857, by Walton & Hamilton, but has been entirely owned and managed by John T. Walton esq., in person since 1866. Mr. W. has had large practical experience in the business, having lived in Bloomington and worked at the business, we believe, since 1840. When this establishment was first commenced, like most others, it was small, but now is classed among our largest ones, for during its many years of existence, the plows manufactured here have become more and more popular until now are manufactured between two and three thousand per annum. About one year ago Mr. W. erected his fine building, Nos. 210 and 212 W. Washington street, on the site of his old shop, the latter having become far too small for his growing business. The manufactory presents quite a neat and attractive appearance, being three stories high of brick, the rear of which is used as blacksmith and workshops, &c., while the lower story of the front is used as stores and the upper as offices, &c. Those who have not used Walton's cast steel and hardened cast steel and prairie plows, cultivators, double shovels, should do so at once, if they would use those classed among the best in the market.

Geo. P. Ela, Civil Engineer and Surveyor.

We feel pleasure in referring to George P. Ela, Esq., as a thoroughly reliable and experienced engineer and surveyor. On a recent visit to Mr. Ela's office we saw and inspected his books of survey made by the United States' government in the years 1821 to 1824, from which survey all subsequent ones should have been made. It is a valuable book, and is, we understand, the only one in McLean county. Mr. Ela has resided in Bloomington for twelve years or more, and in that time has established a reputation as a reliable man. We give below an extract from the Bloomington Weekly Pantagraph, February 2, 1870:

"We wish to call the attention of the land-holders of the county of McLean to the great importance of preserving the original corners and land-marks, and also having all new corners and lines established with accuracy and correctness. When land was worth only $1.25 per acre, and the best of prairie only considered fit for stock rangers at that, it is not surprising that the original corners were obliterated and lost, and little heed paid to section lines. But now that most of our lands are worth $40 to $150 per acre small fractions become valuable, and every owner of land should see to it that his corners are accurately established, not only to save himself trouble and litigation, but future owners. In this connection we would call the attention of the public to the advertisement of Mr. Ela, who proposes to continue his old business of land surveying and engineering, having given it his individual attention the last 12 years, most of the time either as county surveyor or deputy. He has probably the best local knowledge of the boundaries of farms and timber lots of any man in McLean county. He has spared no pains or expense in equipping himself with the very best set of instruments, and has in his office the only official copy of the U. S. government survey, made in 1821-24, and which has cost many hundred dollars. This survey is therefore the foundation of all subsequent ones made. Mr. Ela combines in himself all that is necessary to make a competent and reliable surveyor."

Such is the endorsement given to Mr. Ela by the well known Pantagraph newspaper, and which we know to be wholly true, as in his line of business he is considered to occupy a first position. His office is on the north-east corner of the public square, 101 Jefferson street. Call and consult him in regard to the boundaries of your lands, and so save vexation and expense.

Mrs. G. W. Jenkins, Milliner, Dress and Cloakmaker, and dealer in Millinery and Straw Goods.

It is generally acknowledged by the ladies of Bloomington that the establishment of Mrs. Jenkins is the best at which to purchase their millinery, or have their hats, bonnets, dresses, cloaks, &c. made. Mrs. J. has resided in the city upwards of 7 years, and having had such large experience in her line, she is enabled to buy her goods in the best markets, and at low rates, and so her customers obtain positive bargains in millinery and straw goods, hoop skirts, corsets, &c. Some few months ago Mrs. J., finding her business increase so rapidly, found it necessary to move into more commodious rooms, and she is now located over No. 105 Jefferson, north side of Court House square, over Richardson & Wilcox's store, occupying two entire floors. Mrs. Jenkins was the first to introduce into this city annual openings for the exhibition of new styles of millinery, hats, bonnets, dresses, &c., to the ladies, and which are always numerously attended. We advise all to visit her fine rooms, and they will find it to their advantage to give her their patronage, if they have not already done so. Mr. Jenkins is agent for the justly celebrated Singer Improved Family Sewing Machine, and keeps needles, thread, &c., always on hand for sale. Remember the place, No. 105 Jefferson, north side public square, over Richardson & Wilcox's store.

J. W. & G. Trotter, Lumber Merchants.

The Trotter family have been in business in Bloomington some fifteen years, and have during that time built up a large lumber, produce and grain trade. They have a large lumber yard at 1302 West Market street, where may be obtained, at the lowest market price, all kinds of the best seasoned lumber, lath, shingles, sash, doors and blinds. They have also large warehouses for grain and produce. We believe the business done by this firm is something over fifty thousand dollars per annum, and is increasing, people finding that by doing business with the Trotter Brothers they can make good bargains both in buying and selling. This is another of our solid firms, and one well worthy of confidence and patronage.

George O. Robinson, Attorney at Law.

It always gives us pleasure to speak in commendation of a thoroughly educated and reliable attorney and counsellor, and we are glad to be able to say that by naming the above gentleman we name one of the most reliable in Bloomington, and this we say, from our own experience, as well as being borne out by that of others. Mr. Robinson came west from Maine, and settled in this city in 1854, since when he has practiced law, and now is in high standing in the profession. Those wishing to consult an attorney and counsellor cannot do better than consult George O. Robinson, Esq., whose office is over 112 South Main street.

L. B. Thomas & Brother, Insurance Agents.

This is the oldest Insurance Agency in Bloomington, having been established by Thomas & Rood, in 1852. In 1857, L. B. entered in partnership with his father, W. Thomas. Mr. Rood having withdrawn, the business being principally conducted by him. In 1869, W. withdrew from the firm and L. B. associated with him his brother Joseph A., and now the agency is known by the firm name of Lewis B. Thomas & Brother, "Lu" still having the full management of the business. During the latter gentlemen's experience he has gained quite a reputation for adjusting losses with dispatch, having paid losses to the amount of $120,000. They represent some of the most responsible Companies in United States, among which we may mention the Mutual Benefit Life Insurance Co. of Newark, N. J., assets $20,000,000; Ætna of Hartford, fire, assets $5,500,000; Hartford, fire, of Hartford, assets $2,500,000; Home, fire, of New York, assets $5,500,000; North British and Mercantile, assets $14,000,000, and other good Companies. The Thomas family have been in Bloomington since 1832, and are therefore among the very oldest inhabitants. It is useless for us to comment on the ability of "Lu," for he is known and respected far and wide, and may be fully relied on, in regard to any kind of insurance. This old established responsible agency is located over the McLean County Bank.

Reed & Barger, Importers of Crockery.

In reviewing some of the most prominent business men and business houses of the city, we are gratified to notice the elegant store of Reed & Barger, 114 W. Washington Street, which is as well as its proprietors a credit to the community. The store is 22 feet front and 105 feet deep, three stories high, with a fine cellar the entire length of the building. They are importers, jobbers and retailers of China, Glass, Queensware, Britannia Ware, Lamps, Mirrors, Cutlery, &c., and devote their attention exclusively to this trade; hence it will be seen, they must offer advantages both wholesale and retail, which, but few houses do. The stock they carry is large and varied, (we believe it amounts to $30,000) and judging from their prices and the general opinion of the public, they sell at living rates. Messrs. Reed & Barger, have now been in our midst over 2 years, and the manner in which they have done their business, has secured them a large trade. Their sales footed last year nearly $60,000, thus proving that by strict attention to business and giving satisfaction to the public, men must and will be liberally patronized. In concluding our notice of these gentlemen we would say that, their store is one of the most extensive of the kind in this section, while they themselves must command respect and good feeling by whomsoever known. Visit the store and see the advantages offered.

Joseph M. Dalton, Fruits and Confectionery

We cannot say this gentleman is an old business man, but we can say he is an old and much esteemed citizen. He has lived in Bloomington some thirteen or fourteen years, most of which time he has been in the store of the widely known Dalton & Co., 206 North Centre street, but has now commenced business for himself at 115 North Centre street. In his store may be found nearly all kinds of fruits, confectionery, toys, notions, &c., and the same can be bought at reasonable figures. Joseph's long experience in one of our largest firms, together with his superior business qualifications, we have no doubt will enable him to give as much for a given amount as any other house, as he knows how to buy at first hands. Reader, when passing down Centre street, don't neglect to drop into his store, and we guarantee he will satisfy you in cheapness, quality and obliging treatment. Store 115 North Centre.

Tryner Brothers, Grocers.

The popular grocery of Tryner Brothers, was established in August 1866, the firm name being up to last April, Tryner, Scott & Co. The Tryner boys notwithstanding, have run the business all the time, and through their energy and go-aheaditiveness have built up a sixty thousand dollar per annum trade. There store may be found at 103 W. Front street, where is kept a large stock of groceries, provisions, produce, wooden and willow ware, &c., and they say that the same shall be sold as heretofore at the lowest cent, while they will deliver all goods ordered free of charge, to any part of the city. Of course where there are many groceries, there must be some few offer the best advantages, and we congratulate the Tryner boys, George A. and James P., that they are among the few, and hope they may be still more largely patronized, for it is their aim to give entire satisfaction. Don't forget or neglect to visit the Tryner grocery, 103 W. Front street.

L. M. Murphy, Painter.

Fifteen years practical experience in the painting business in this city, has brought Mr. Murphy prominently before the public as a gentleman who understands every branch of his trade. Paper hanging, calsomining, graining, &c., is done by him in a workmanlike manner, and at prices that cannot fail to suit those who believe every servant worthy of his hire. Judging from specimens of his work in this city, we arrive at the conclusion that Mr. Murphy is well skilled in the painting art, and well deserves liberal patronage from our citizens. Those wishing a good job done, may find his shop at 217 N. Main street.

General George F. Dick, Tobacconist.

In speaking of the various business men of Bloomington, we are especially pleased to notice the well known General George F. Dick, who from the commencement to the close of the late rebellion, braved many of the fireiest engagements. In 1858 the firm of Dick & Co., was established in this city, at this time Mr. D was living in Indiana, and in 1861 he joined the army as captain, and was promoted from time to time, for his personal valor, ability and bravery, and at the close of the war was mustered out Brigadier General. In 1865 he came to Bloomington, to personally attend to his business here, he had two stores up to a short time ago, one in the Ashley House block, the other at 113 N. Centre street. Sometime ago the General assumed the entire business himself, and now he may be found at 113 N. Centre street, where he keeps on hand a large supply of cigars, tobacco, meerschaum pipes, and smokers' articles generally, at wholesale and retail. This we believe is the oldest business of the kind in the city, and has grown from a small beginning to a trade of about $25,000 per annum. From our own knowledge, as well as being borne out by an appreciative smoking public, we can confidently say, that his cigars are among the most elegant manufactured, his honorable and straight forward way of doing business, together with his gentlemanly bearing, has won him many personal friends and patrons. Try Dick's "High Falute" and "Bloomington Belle" cigars, and see if we have mistated facts.

Parker Brothers, Insurance Agents.

These gentlemen have been in our city but a short time, since last December, but we believe since their advent in our midst, they have proven themselves two of the most popular underwriters in Bloomington or vicinity. Sometimes the public are a little prejudiced against insurance agents, in consequence of having been approached by some ungentlemanly, and as regards insurance, uneducated person, but if we reflect for a moment and see the numerous losses daily sustained by fire, how uncertain life is, we shall see that insurance is a blessing to all participating in it, if only managed aright and by competent individuals. The gentlemanly Parker Brothers, Thomas B. and J. Warren, represent some first class, old and reliable companies, life and fire, such as the New Jersey Mutual Life Ins. Company, of Newark, N. J., of which they are managers for Illinois and Iowa, and Lycoming, fire, of Muncy, Penn., and others equally good. These companies are fortunate in securing the services of two such thoroughly educated underwriters. They have had large experience in the business in the east, but latterly in St. Louis, and we can say without hesitation that they are fully competent to discharge the arduous duties of underwriting. We bespeak for them liberal encouragement.

J. W. Straight, Attorney at Law.

We feel no hesitation in saying that as a lawyer and gentleman, Mr. S. fully bears out his name. He has been in our midst since 1860, except one year's absence, during the war, and has practiced law since 1864. He has been eminently successful as an advocate, having proven himself one of our ablest lawyers in several knotty and intricate suits, which many of our citizens will remember. He was elected to the office of county clerk last November, and is filling that position to the entire satisfaction of the public. His office is in the Court house.

Phoenix Saving, Loan and Trust Co.'s Bank.

This Bank was organized 5th of April 1869, since which time its business has rapidly increased. At this institution a general banking business is done. Drafts issued &c., also deposits received of any amount, on which 6 per cent. per annum interest is paid. We would especially draw the attention of the public to their specialty, which is loaning money on longtime. Here money may be borrowed on good security at moderate interest, for from one to five years, a convenience many individuals will not be slow to avail themselves of. All we need to say in recommendation of the responsibility of the bank is that C. Weed, esq., is President and general manager, this fact we consider sufficient to inspire confidence in the minds of the public, for during his twenty years residence and business career in this city, he has been held in high estimation by all by whom known, while his word has been considered as good as his bond.

George Bruner, Lumber Merchant.

The business of George Bruner, Esq., is no less interesting than suggestive. Even as the great oak develops from the tiny acorn, and reaches out its branches in all directions for the relief and support of animal life, so has his business grown from an insignificant trade, entirely local, to an immense depot, sending out lumber, lath, shingles, lime, cement, stucco, plaster, salt, &c., in all directions, and over a vast extent of country. He established himself here in the above business in 1859, at his present location, and since has had several partners, but now the entire business he controls. His trade having increased so much of late he found it necessary to open a yard at Leroy, to supply that section of the country, and we hear he is also doing a good trade there, both in lumber and coal. Mr. B. is a wholesale as well as retail merchant, and has every facility for supplying the public at prices as low as the lowest, always keeping on hand, if not the largest, one of the largest stocks in this city or surrounding country. It gives us special pleasure to speak of a gentleman like the above, for through his own energy he has attained his present prominent position, and built up a name and trade second to none here.

Mrs. L. A. Allen, Hair Dresser.

Mrs. Allen says in her advertisement that she manufactures all kinds of hair work, such as wigs, waterfalls, switches, curls, hair jewelry, &c., and sells the same at the lowest cent. When we were in her establishment a short time ago we examined her goods and asked the price of them and from our own judgment as well as being borne out by those who have patronized her, we come to the conclusion that those wanting anything in this line cannot do better than give Mrs. A. a call. Mr. Allen may also be found at his Tonsorial establishment, 109 W. Jefferson street, where those wanting an easy shave should call.

A. W. Gridley. Gas Fixtures, &c.

Bloomington has long needed an establishment which should deal exclusively in gas fixtures, chandeliers, globes, &c., and do all kinds of gas & steam fitting, her growing necessities demand such a house. We are pleased to notice that that enterprising A. W. Gridley, Esq., has opened such a business at 113 E. Front street. He has beautifully fitted up his store, which is 22 feet by 60, and well stocked it with the latest styles of chandeliers, pendants, globes, &c., to be obtained in the market, while he has a large workshop in the rear, where are employed a competent force of men, with Mr. Willard Parritt, who has had many years practical experience in the business, as foreman. Mr. G. buys his stock direct from manufacturers at the lowest cent, and this together with his financial ability, enables him to compete with Chicago and other houses. It is useless to say anything in commendation of "Al," as he is so well known and respected in the city, having been raised here, but we do think him one of the most enterprising of Bloomingtonians and worthy of liberal patronage.

Pennington & Coultas, Contractors.

This responsible firm has been established some five years, although each gentleman has done business in the city quite a number of years, the former some sixteen and the latter ten. It would be difficult to find too more responsible and reliable men than Messrs. P. & C., for during their business career they have received contracts for some of the most prominent public and private buildings and residences in section, showing at once the utmost confidence reposed in them. It is unnecessary for us to comment at length on this firm, but will give a few of the buildings erected by them, which are, Soldiers Orphan's Home, at Normal, which is one of the finest buildings in this part of the state. They have the carpenters work of this building and everything connected with that branch. Peter Whitner, esq's residence, and lawyer Weldon's after the same plan, and are now erecting residences for O. Rugg and Dr. Noble, also the building of the People's Bank, cor. Centre and Washington streets. Examination of the above structures will prove the manner of work they do to be of the most substantial & workmanlike character. Their office and shop is located on East street near Market.

J. T. Elliott, Restaurant.

One of the neatest and best regulated restaurants may be found at 108 S. Main, kept by our respected Janesville, Wisconsin, friend J. T. Elliott. Mr E. opened his establishment last October, and has met with good success, that success which should always attend so good a caterer as he, and so honorable a gentleman. At this place oysters are served in any desired style, meals and lunch may be obtained at any hour at moderate charges, he also manufactures ice cream, and persons can either buy the same for their home or eat it in his saloon. We say to those seeking such a place, you cannot do better than to give Elliott a call.

Michael Bush, Jeweler and Watchmaker.

When we call Mr. Bush a Jeweler and Watchmaker we mean all we say, for he has had forty years experience at the business, and has become efficient in every branch of the same, and is classed among the most competent. Mr. B "migrated" from the east to this city fifteen years ago, and to day stands as one of our most reliable business men. His store is 109 E. Front street, where he has just added largely to his stock, and he assures us that he will sell all goods at the lowest figure, and judging from his prices, we certainly think they are considerably lower than we have paid for similar articles. We advise those seeking cheap and good jewelry, or those wanting repairs done to the same, clocks and watches included, to give him a trial, and we know none will come away disappointed either in respect to price, quality or courteous treatment.

S. K. Noble, Agent Sewing Machines.

Mr. Noble has lived in this county since 1831, and within the city limits since 1850, his father migrated hitherward from the east in the former year, and erected the first frame house in this city, being a carpenter, hence it will be seen that the Noble family, of whom there are quite a number, are among the very first settlers, and consequently must have taken an active part in building up this beautiful city. We believe in 1850 S. K. Noble, Esq., established a boot and shoe business, which he continued till 1858, but has been thoroughly absorbed in the details and workings of sewing machines since 1855, until now it is said he understands them almost to perfection. Persons having any kind of sewing machine needing repairs, need not send them to Chicago or elsewhere, supposing that they must take this course in order to have them satisfactorily adjusted, such can be and will be done by Mr. N., if only sent to his store 107 E. Front street. Mr. Noble is agent for the celebrated Grover & Baker sewing machines, which are par excellence, the machine for every household and manufactory. In this connection we would say that Mrs. Nobles' embroidery and stamping establishment may still be found at 608 W. Washington street, and where is done some of the most elaborate stamping and embroidery to be found, for which she has for many years been noted.

Bunting & Harris, Architects.

Among the best and most prominent architects in this section, is G. W. Bunting, Esq., (of the above firm) who has had over nineteen years experience in the business, sixteen years of which he spent in Philadelphia, over one year in Cairo, and nearly two in Bloomington. During his experience in our city, he has proven himself a thoroughly educated architect, as many of his beautiful designs in this city demonstrate, the high school and third ward school in this place, are his designs, besides ten or twelve other buildings which are ornaments to the city, and reflect credit upon his architectural skill. He has submitted plans and specifications to the directors of the Peoples' Bank, for their new building, to be erected corner of Washington and Centre streets, which have been accepted. Mr. Bunting's designs have been accepted for many schoolhouses and prominent residences in this state, in competition with, and preference of some of our best Chicago architects. We feel we cannot do justice to the ability of this gentleman in so short a notice as this, but we simply suggest to those contemplating the erection of any kind of building, to consult Mr. B. and we have no doubt, judging from specimens we examined in his office, and the high reputation he bears, that he will satisfy the most fastidious taste.

I. W. Crist, Dentist.

The oldest surgeon dentist in Bloomington, & one of the oldest in this section, is the above named gentleman. He has worked at the profession for the past twenty years, the last fifteen in this city, during which time he has built up a large, first-class business, as his work invariably gives entire satisfaction. His neat and commodious rooms are located over 216 N. Centre street, where the Doctor always stands prepared to do everything known to the profession in a superior manner, principally using metal plates, said to be the best for the health of the wearer. He uses all kinds of anaesthetics and applies all the latest inventions in the way of instruments, &c., while he is considered one of the best dentists of the day. Dr. Crist is among our oldest citizens and is esteemed highly for his integrity and the interest he takes in the promotion of everything pertaining to the benefit of the city.

Asahel Gridley, Banker.

Although this gentleman does not care to have any notice in our editorial review, still it is our privilege to mention those whom we may see fit, especially those who have taken a very prominent part in nearly all the enterprises which have been set on foot, not only for the good of the city, but for the benefit of individuals. We take special pride in mentioning briefly Asahel Gridley, esq., who is one of the oldest citizens in Bloomington, and one of the most liberal, farseeing and enterprising of her business men. In the year 1831 he came to this city, at which time what is now included in the limits was an unbroken prairie, as many of our most prominent men have done, without any means, excepting willing hands, brain and courage, and soon afterwards commenced business as a merchant, which he continued until 1840. All the time he was selling goods he applied himself to the study of law and in 1840 was admitted to the bar, and in a short time proved himself one of our best lawyers, hence he acquired a high reputation. After practicing law for thirteen years, the present McLean County Bank was incorporated under the general banking laws of Illinois, with an authorized capital of $150,000, its charter expiring in 1880, he being its prime mover, and to-day is the proprietor of the same, while many similar institutions have been born and died, some an unnatural death, this through the business qualifications of Mr. G., has stood amidst many storms that has visited Bloomington during its existence, and now the McLean County Bank is considered, and is, one of the most responsible in the State, or States.

In 1855 the Bloomington Gas Light and Coke Company's Gas works were erected, and now Asahel Gridley is owner of the whole stock. In fine, they are Gridley's gas works. In 1867 these works were wholly rebuilt. The old ones being inadequate to supplying the growing demands of the city, and are said to be the finest of the size in this country, and are large enough to supply a city of fifty thousand inhabitants. Their capacity is ten benches of three clay retorts each. There are sixteen miles of street main gas pipes laid in the city. There are over 800 individual consumers in the city, besides the city having 350 gas lamp posts, all of which are lighted by these works, thus making sixteen miles of lighted streets in Bloomington. The citizens of Bloomington are indebted for the comforts of gas lights to the enterprise and public spirit of the subject of our writing. During the whole 39 years that Mr. G. has resided and done business in this city his actions and advice have been characterized with enterprise and good feeling, and to day there is few enterprises set on foot without his being consulted. He is president of the Lafayette, Bloomington &

Mississippi R. R., which is to be completed during the present year. We feel we have not said as much in these few lines as we ought, or could say, nor half as much as he deserves, but here we will conclude, and renew our writing in the next issue of our Directory. May he live forever.

A. T. Tullis, Fine Art Gallery.

To be successful in any business a person must fully understand that business, and at the same time must make up his mind to act honestly and honorably to all his patrons. These are the two essential points which invariably insure success, now in respect to the first, we can, without hesitation say that the above named gentleman, has gained a high position in the art of Photography, while his conscientious business transactions are too well known to need comment. Mr. Tullis commenced here in 1864, having had 8 years experience in the art at that time, and we think, judging from specimens of his work we examined and his general reputation, that he has few equals and no superior. He makes a specialty in Porcelain Pictures, from the smallest to cabinet size, and these he has no hesitation in saying excel anything produced in this section. He does considerable "contract work." Pictures taken cabinet size, direct from the "sitter," which are very good and we believe that but few instruments capable of producing these large picture are in use. Without further comment we would say to you reader, if you desire a good picture of yourself, of whatsoever kind, just drop into Tullis well arranged rooms, when the proprietor will bear out by his superior work all we have said about him and even more. Rooms 113 W. Front Street.

Watson, Waddle & Co.. Wholesale Grocers.

The wholesale houses in Bloomington are becoming more and more numerous, owing of course to its increasing population, and the new facilities opened and opening up to her, from her many centering Railroads, and in speaking of the wholesale business of the city we particularly desire to notice the above firm Messrs. Watson, Waddle & Fowle. They have been established a little over two years in their present business, (although the two first named have done business in this city for the past ten years, and Mr. Fowle for six years,) and in so short a time have built up a trade of nearly a quarter of a million dollars per annum, besides supplying the home market, they ship largely, dealers finding that here advantages are offered which are only obtained at few houses. Their store is located at 111 W. Front St, is 22 feet front and 115 feet deep, 3 stories high with cellar, and in each story is an immense stock of well selected Groceries, Cigars, Tobacco, &c., the whole interior having the air of a New York and even a Chicago wholesale grocery establishment. The gentlemen composing this firm are the men who greatly add to the prosperity of our growing cities, for by their enterprise and business qualifications they draw many customers hitherward. We would urge retailers to test advantages offered by this firm, in ordering one bill of goods and we have doubt satisfaction will be secured with the first order.

G. H. Dadd, Veterinary Surgeon.

The name of the eminent veterinary surgeon Dr. Dadd, is no doubt familiar to every one. He is well known far and wide for his scientific skill, having been in the profession many years successfully. In 1859, he graduated at the Boston Veterinary College, and has since then devoted himself to the study and practice of veterinary science, until now he stands amongst the foremost professional men in this country. The Doctor has written considerable to the various agricultural papers in the country, and has also become famous for his able lectures on the treatment of horses. He practiced for a number of years in Chicago, where he attained an enviable reputation. and now has permanently located in Bloomington, where he is ably assisted by G. Ferrin Esq., who has had large practical experience. His office is over No. 120 S Main Street, where those having horses needing the services of a skillful surgeon should at once call.

J. C. Rennison, Proprietor National Nursery.

Bloomington is famous for nurseries, and among her most prominent ones is the widely known National Nursery, owned by J. C. Rennison, esq., who has had a life long experience in the business and is considered one of the best nurserymen in the west. Mr. R. came to this city and established his business about four years ago.

His trade since that time having increased so rapidly that he is almost unable to supply the demand, although he has many acres under cultivation, from which are raised about 200,000 apple and plum trees, besides large quantities of evergreens, all kinds of flowering shrubbery, shade trees, fruit and ornamental trees, roses, Osage hedge plants, grape vines, house plants, vegetables, &c., Mr. Rennison is about to erect an additional green house and make other additions whereby he will be able to fill all orders. All orders sent by mail will be promptly and faithfully responded to. We take especial pride in recommending Mr. R. to the further notice of the public, as we consider him one of the most honorable and trustworthy nurserymen to be found.

Ross & Aldrich, Toys, Notions, Stationery, &c.

The house of Ross & Aldrich is well worthy of mention. It has been established a number of years and gained quite a popular name, as being the place where goods are sold at reasonable prices. It would almost be impossible to enumerate all the articles they sell, but we may mention a few, viz: books and stationery, wall paper in large supply, toys, notions, fancy goods, cigars, baskets, baby carriages, of which they have as large stock and good assortment as can be found in this neighborhood; and other articles too numerous to enumerate. They also pay special attention to the manufacture of picture frames and mouldings, so that those needing such can be accommodated here at living rates. Messrs. R. & A. have been in our midst, the former three and the latter four years, and the success that they have met with during that time is attributable to their uprightness and thorough business qualifications. Those in quest of anything in their line should call upon Ross & Aldrich, at 114 W. Front Street, where satisfaction in price will be insured.

Livingston & Griesheim, Clothiers.

In Stepping into the store of the above gentlemen at 202 N. Centre, corner Washington, a short time ago we were reminded of a large Chicago House, for in their beautiful new store is kept one of the largest stocks of Ready-made Clothing in the city, of the latest and most fashionable styles, all of which are offered at as low prices as can be obtained elsewhere. Mack Livingston, though a young gentleman has had years of experience in the clothing business, as has also Wolf Griesheim Esq., and have learned how to buy the best articles at the closest figures. Beside clothing, they keep a full line of trunks and valises, hats, caps and furs, gents' furnishing goods, &c., and those visiting the firm of Livingston & Griesheim for a new "Rig" will be sure to be suited in price, quality and style, and waited upon by the gentlemanly proprietors in an obliging manner.

Parker & Scott, Lumber Merchants.

Although we cannot say that Messrs. Parker & Scott are as old in the lumber business as some others, still we can say that from all we hear they are doing a good and increasing trade. They are located at 802 E. Grove Street, and are successors to McCurdy & Martin. It is now two years since their commencement, and by selling at close figures, promptly filling orders and giving satisfaction generally, they have done a fair share of the lumber trade of the city. These gentlemen are obliging, energetic and wide awake, and deserve large patronage. They advertise liberally, as is absolutely necessary to become well known, and constantly keep their names before the public, which is as it should be to ensure success. But this is not all they claim to live up to their advertisement, their motto being "we will not be undersold." Those doing business with the Messrs. Parker & Scott, may rest assured of having the right thing done by them.

William Kadel, Wine Hall.

Fifteen years residence and business career, as barber and hairdresser, in Bloomington, has familiarized her citizens with the name of the above gentleman. Last March, having abandoned his tonsorial vocation, he opened a wine hall at the corner of Centre and North sts., which is well and respectably kept, and where are dispensed some of the finest flavored wines, liquors, fine ales, and cigars to be obtained. He also supplies free lunch every morning. Mr. Kadel is a genial fellow, with a host of friends, and we have no doubt will do a good business, so long as he maintains the high reputation he has already earned. Wine hall cor. Centre and North streets.

B. Gray, Photographic Artist.

It gives us great pleasure to speak of the enterprise and ability which has characterized the above named gentleman's efforts to raise the Photographic art in this city, during his six years residence here, and to note the success that has crowned his labor. In 1864, he came to this city and soon afterwards established his business, (at that time almost on nothing,) since which time it has increased into four large and well patronized galleries, two in this city, one at Chenoa and the other at Lincoln, and has proven himself one of the best artists of the day, while his are the finest galleries, best arranged and most superbly furnished of any in central Illinois. His Gem Gallery in this city is located over 116 W. Washington Street, and has recently been thoroughly refurnished and otherwise improved, while his "Excelsior" Gallery is located northwest corner Washington and Centre Streets, and is one of the most complete we have had the pleasure of seeing. It occupies the entire third story, eight rooms in all, and is divided, first, into reception room, which in the elegant style of its furniture, rich brussels carpet, upholstery, mirrors and chandeliers, leaves nothing to be desired. The second is the finishing room and well adapted for that purpose, while the third is the operating room, and is 25 feet wide, 45 feet long and has a sky-light, containing 325 square feet of light. At this place life-like photographs are taken, as Mr. Gray employs the best talent to be obtained, regardless of expense, but does not confine himself to this. For all kinds of pictures are taken, oil paintings, porcelain, India ink, gems, &c., in fine, everything known to the art. If you would be faithfully represented on card glass or canvass, call at Gray's Popular Galleries.

M. Pearson & Co., Lumber Merchants.

The lumber trade of the city is well represented, having several prominent firms, some few of whom carry a large stock. Among the most prominent we take pleasure in mentioning the above firm, which is composed of M. Pearson, Esq., whom we believe is the father of the business in the city, having been established since 1864, and continued steadily, surely and successfully in the same ever since, Mr. Lewis who, has been for many years, until recently, connected with Barbour's flour mills, having resided in the city 16 years, and A. B. Coe, Esq., who has lived in the city for 5 years, and was for over two years the efficient manager of the Bloomington Manufacturing Company. Their office and yard are located corner Front and Robinson streets, where may be found a large stock of lumber, lath, shingles, lime, cement, stucco, plaster, &c., in fine, everything necessary for building purposes. We recommend this firm to intending purchasers, and the public generally, as being among our most responsible and honorable. Those who may call for a bill of lumber will be highly pleased with the genial manners of Mr. Coe, who is a wholesouled gentleman.

Dr. S. C. Wilson, Dentist.

S. C. Wilson, who has practiced in his profession for the last five years in Bloomington, has become widely known as a thoroughly educated and practical dentist, his work giving universal satisfaction, in appearance, price and workmanship. He has beautifully fitted and furnished rooms over 206 N. Centre st., west of Court house square, where he has every facility requisite for the dental profession. When in his place a short time ago we were shown samples of his work, and examined the same, and for artistic finish and symmetry we think it would be difficult to excel. The doctor makes a specialty in filling (with gold) and preserving decaying teeth, using all the latest improved dental instruments, which includes the "mallet," and in this branch he has gained a high repute, as it makes the filling more perfect and compact, hence it will be seen that teeth are better preserved. As a dentist and gentleman we know of none whom it gives us more pleasure to recommend than Dr. S. C. Wilson.

W. D. Hallett, Restaurant.

The advertisement of this gentleman should be read by every farmer and the public generally, and its language noted, also the location, for in it he states that it is the farmer's headquarters for lunch, and that he defies competition. This appears to be the case, for during the last five years he has been established at 204 N. Centre, (in basement). He has done a good trade and given general satisfaction in price, quality and quantity of food and gentlemanly treatment. He has just enlarged his premises, and is now prepared to wait upon all his old customers, and as many new ones as may favor him with a call, while he assures us he will continue to make up and serve his unexcelled coffee, bread, pies, rusk, beef, &c., and charge moderately. He has opened a restaurant and ice cream saloon along with Jonas Burns, cor. Washington and Madison streets, where those desiring anything in his line should call, when they will be made comfortable, and served at as low prices as anywhere in this section. Remember Hallett's headquarters for lunch, &c.

Ryan & Engelken, Grocers.

These gentlemen are successors to the old established firm of Frank Oberkoetter & Co., at 113 South Main street, and since their commencement, the first of the present year, have maintained the high reputation that had so honestly been gained, for good goods and reasonable prices. They keep a full and large supply of groceries, provisions, crockery, glassware, wood and willow ware, and everything usually found in a well appointed grocery store. Mr. Ryan has had some ten years experience in the business, understanding just how and where to buy at the lowest cent, in order to give his customers the benefit. Mr. Engelken has been in our city for the past fourteen years, and appears at home in the business also. Both are obliging and attentive to customers, and well deserve a share of public patronage.

G. F. Carruthers, Barrel Factory.

Mr. Carruthers has had 4 years experience in this city as grain merchant, but seeing the great necessity and long felt want of a cooperage manufactory in Bloomington, last January he commenced to supply that need. Bloomington is being supplied with almost every kind of manufactory, and those who are the foremost to introduce them should be well patronized for their public spirit and enterprise, and this patronage we are glad to hear has been extended liberally to Mr. Carruthers since his commencement. He manufactures all kinds of barrels, vats, &c., and deals in all kinds of staves, heading and head lining. Persons wanting anything in his line should send in their orders at once, when they will be supplied at lower rates than by buying elsewhere. Manufactory cor. W. Chestnut and Lumber streets.

H. M. Bateman, Restaurant, &c.

Bateman's popular restaurant at 110 W. Front, was opened by H. M. Bateman, Esq six years ago, and two years ago he perceiving that the growing wants of the city required increased facilities, opened the second at 111 North street. Bateman is so popularly known as a first class caterer, and his restaurants being first class in all their appointments, that we deem it almost unnecessary to say a word, but as there are constantly pouring into our city, strangers, and those often inquiring for an establishment of this kind, we will give a short sketch of the same: The one on Front street is large and commodious, well and conveniently furnished, with ample accommodations for about one hundred persons, while the one on North street is even ahead of this in furniture, it is also capable of seating about one hundred persons, and is magnificently furnished with rich Brussels carpet, marble top tables, black walnut and beautifully carved chairs, damask curtains, and gold plated chandeliers, richly ornamented with cut glass pendants, taken altogether, these two restaurants and ice cream saloons are among the best arranged, and most superbly furnished, of any in central Illinois. The "Doctor" keeps on hand confectionery, cigars, green and canned fruits of all kinds. nuts and oysters, also supplies parties, weddings, church festivals and picnics, and if necessary furnishes servants, china, glass, silver, &c, and at prices, and in such a clean, tasty and accommodating manner, that satisfaction is given in every instance. Patronize Bateman, for such such men as he, through their enterprise, and through knowledge of their business, are the ones who cause us to put on the airs of an important city.

A. T. Daniels, Boots and Shoes.

Daniel's popular boot and shoe store is located at 218 North Centre street, where those wanting a good and splendid fit, together with the best made goods and lowest prices, should go. Mr. Daniels has been established in Bloomington since 1857, and by perseverance, energy and turning out good work, has built up a large trade, approximating to about $40,000 annually. He keeps on hand a well selected stock of the best make and latest styles, and defies competition in price, and only asks one trial to prove the truth of his claim. Boots and shoes are manufactured at Daniels' order, for which purpose he keeps a number of excellent workmen, and it is said by those who know that the most splendid and easy fitting boots are turned out of this store to be obtained. In view of the above facts it will be profitable to call at Daniels' old established boot and shoe store with your next order.

Charles H. Gmehlin, Gunsmith.

When we refer to this gunsmith, we refer to the oldest one in Bloomington, and one of the best workmen in the west. Mr. Gmehlin has been brought up to the business, and has had fourteen years experience in this city. He has just removed into his new and commodious store 309 W. Washington street, two blocks west of Court House, where may be found a full assortment of guns, pistols, rifles, powder, shot and every kind of sportsmens apparatus of the very best, and at prices that defy competition. He also manufactures keys, does stencil cutting, and repairs everything belonging to his trade. Sportsmen visit Gmehlin's store, and we feel no hesitation in saying that his prices and workmanship will suit you.

C. M. Camp, Grocer.

Five years business experience has brought the Quaker Store and its proprietor, C. M. Camp, Esq., into public favor, for people know, who have once done business here, that they get their money's worth in good and fresh articles, and at as low prices as may be obtained in the city. He always keeps on hand a full stock of family groceries, and fresh fruits in season, together with hams and provisions generally. Give Camp an order and rest satisfied that you will get the best of goods, at lowest rates, which will be sent right to your homes if you wish it, free of charge.

L. B. Tompkins, Billiard Hall.

To lovers of the billiard game, we would say, that the above named gentleman has opened a well fitted up hall, at 902 W. Chestnut street, near the C. A. & St. L. depot supplied with three of as good tables as are made, his charges are reasonable per game. At this place fine ales, wines, liquors and cigars are dispensed, and private rooms, well furnished, are set apart for private parties. Those desiring an institution of this kind, will find it a pleasant place to wile away an hour in the genial company of proprietor Tompkins.

William P. Minter, Builder and Contractor.

Another carpenter and builder worthy of notice is found in the above mentioned person. He is a gentleman of large practical experience—17 years we believe in the city—five of which he has been in business for himself, and has been liberally patronized since his commencement, as it is well known, and thoroughly understood, that Minter understands every branch of his business. His works praise him, as will be seen in J. W. Haggard's, Mr. Folsom's and Mr. Hewitt's residences, also Moore & Gmehlin's stores, 309 and 311 W. Washington streets, the latter two being just completed. Everybody should carefully read the advertisement of Mr. Minter and see what he there says, and we may add he means just what he says. Shop 207 North Madison street.

Krum & Robinson, Lumber Merchants.

Mr. Krum has resided in the city of Bloomington some twenty years, and Mr. Robinson about seven. Their business has been established about 18 years, the whole of which time the former gentleman has been connected with it. The present firm has been in existence about seven years, during which time it has grown into an immense depot. They are both possessed of good business ability, and manage their business with an eye to their own success as well as the advantage of their patrons. They deal wholesale and retail in all kinds of pine, oak and poplar lumber, shingles, lath, doors, sash, blinds, pickets, fence posts, bulk and barrel lime, cement, stucco, plastering hair, coal, salt, dressed hogs, hides, window glass, wheat, corn, oats, rye, flax seed and barley. This is one of the most extensive firms in the city or vicinity, and offer advantages to the public rarely to be obtained. As an honorable firm, one in which full confidence may be reposed, we would particularly recommend Krum & Robinson, located at 920 E. Grove street.

William Armstrong, Wines and Liquors.

This gentleman has resided and done business in Bloomington, for the past four years. He was for sometime in the wholesale grocery business, under the firm name of McMillan & Armstrong, and in the beginning of 1869 withdrew from that firm, and opened his present establishment, where W. B. Lawrence, our worthy city treasurer is manager, 113 W. Front Street. Mr. A. deals in wines, liquors, ales, and bitters, wholesale, and does a large trade, as he has become well known for his superior brands. He buys at first hands and sells on a small margin, believing that by this method of doing business he can build up a large trade and give more general satisfaction. He is also of the firm of Armstrong & Minshall, proprs. of the Bloomington Dray and Transportation line, and one of our most energetic and enterprising business men. Such men must prosper.

Agle & Sons, Leather and Findings.

The business of Agle & Sons, was established in Cattaraugus County, N. Y. In 1860 by Frederick Agle Jr. Esq., the affable manager of their branch at 104 S. East Street, in this city. A few years afterwards he associated with him his father and two brothers, who remain at the former place and where they do a large business, owning a large Tannery and manufacturing their well known brands of domestic leather. A little over two years ago F. Jr. opened a branch store in this city, now has built up a large growing trade, and we believe it is paying, their business transactions footing last year to between 35 and 40,000 dollars. They keep on hand a large stock of imported and domestic leather and shoe findings, and pay highest cash price for hides and pelts. We take pleasure in recommending this firm to the confidence of the public. Note the address, 104 S. East Street.

P. B. Elkins, Grocer.

One of our most enterprising grocers is Mr. P. B. Elkins, at 204 N. Centre Street, south of Court House square. He has resided in the city the last eighteen years, and the last eight years of that time was working at and learning thoroughly the grocery business. A little over one year ago he opened on his own account at the above address, determined that if energy and experimental knowledge of the business would ensure success, then success was his, and we are pleased to record the fact that he has succeeded in building up a large trade which is gradually increasing. He keeps a well selected stock of groceries, provisions and all kinds of fresh produce, which he assures us shall be sold at reasonable prices, as heretofore, while all orders in the city limits shall be delivered free of charge. Try him reader!

Bushnell & Gibson, Furniture.

This firm is located at the corner of E. Front and East Streets, in Major's block, and occupy the entire second and third floors, (under which is the old and well known Bushnell's grocery, which has been located there for the past 12 years.) On the second floor are four rooms, three of which are devoted to storing of furniture, and the fourth to the finishing of the same, while on the third floor are two spacious rooms, one of which is used for manufacturing furniture and upholstering, the other is used as show room. It being 22 by 66 feet. In this room is kept a very large and fine assortment of some of the most superb, chamber and parlor suits, bureaus, lounges, sofas, &c., we have seen for some time. The stock on hand at this place is large and varied, so that persons wanting any kind can be suited. Messrs. Bushnell & Gibson, offer great inducements to purchasers, as they buy most of their furniture in the "white" and finish it themselves, thereby saving considerable in freightage, besides, turning it out highly finished. Both Mr. B. & G. are old business men of Bloomington, each having been here some fourteen years, and it is now, as it always been has been their aim, to treat customers in such a manner by fair and honorable dealing the first time, as to ensure their future patronage. Mr. B. is at his old grocery stand and will be glad to see all his old customers and many new ones.

Hughes & McCart, Attorneys.

We feel some little diffidence in noticing these gentlemen, as they have lived in the city so many years, and are well and favorably known as honorable men, gentlemen of marked legal ability, that we think anything we may here say, will almost appear superfluous, but notwithstanding, we may say that they recently formed a co-partnership, since which time their success has been highly gratifying, as the public find by employing them, everything will be done for their benefit, as far as the nature of their case will admit. For collecting, legal advice or working up intricate cases, we refer the public to Hughes & McCart, whose office may be found at 118 W. Washington street, corner of Centre.

John F. Rees, Carpenter and Builder.

Our old friend John F. Rees, is still among us, doing a good share of the carpenter business of the city, he came here in 1854, and established himself in business in 1860, and has fully gained the confidence of those of our business men and citizens, for whom he has done work. Mr. R is a good workman, and we have no hesitation in saying that those placing orders in his hands, may rest satisfied of the same being done in a satisfactory manner, and according to agreement. His shop is located at 205 Woodard street, where those wishing his services for building or repairing should call at once.

L. H. Poole, Merchant Tailor' &c.

We deem it almost unnecessary to mention Poole's merchant tailoring establishment in our editorial review, as it has been established so long, while most of the elite of the city patronize it, that our remarks will only be a reiteration of what has been said so often by those who know, namely: that it would be difficult to find a more deserving house, at which to get the finest and best fitting garments than at Pooles', but right here we may say, for the information of those who may be new comers to Bloomington, and those who may still come at some future time, that Mr. Poole has been in our midst some eight years, four of which he was acting in the capacity of cutter, and the latter four in business for himself, and has during that time proven himself one of the best and most tasty tailors in the west, having had a life long experience at the trade. His store is at the old corner, under Ashley House, where may always be found a well selected stock of cloths, cassimeres, vestings and gent's furnishing goods of the best quality, and marked down at living rates. Patronize Poole, for by doing so, satisfaction and comfort is sure to be obtained in respect to your garments.

Robert Greenlee, Contractor and Builder.

During the thirteen years residence, nine of which Mr. Greenlee has been in business in this city, he has gained quite a reputation, everybody according to him ability as a carpenter, contractor and builder. Some few of the many contracts he has taken we may mention, which will prove to the public on inspection, his skill in the business, they are: Benjamin Funk's residence on Main street, Mr. F's fathers' and brother Georges' at Funk's Grove, and George Bruner, Esq.' on Grove street, these are a few among the great number he has erected, all of which have been finished in a satisfactory manner. He employs from ten to twenty hands, and has now under contract, several other fine residences ranging from ten to forty thousand dollars. His shop is located at 310 E. Douglas street, and we may say that there is none in his line in Bloomington or vicinity, that we more gladly or freely recommend to the public, than Robert Greenlee, Esq.

A. N. Beard, Agent for Danforth's Petroleum Fluid.

We gladly yield a portion of our space, to the article for which A. N. Beard, Esq., is general agent, and located at 215 W. Jefferson street, Ashley House block. Danforth's Petroleum Fluid was introduced in this city last January, after being satisfactorily used and justly eulogized in Ohio for three years, and since then, large quantities have been sold in Bloomington and vicinity, and has taken the place of kerosene, gasoline, &c., the public having become satisfied that it is safer, cheaper, and gives a more brilliant light than anything yet introduced. This fluid makes a clear beautiful light; will not soil anything to which it is applied; does not smoke the chimney; has no unpleasant odor; is very cheap; and best of all, is perfectly safe, being absolutely non-explosive. This article to be fully appreciated must be seen and for this purpose we would particularly recommend all persons in want of the best, cheapest and safest light to call upon the gentlemanly agent, Mr. Beard, and see its merits tested. Thousands of testimonials have been received in its favor from those using it, and can be seen at the office. Below we give an extract from the Buffalo

Gazette.—Petroleum Fluid an extract put up by R. F. Danforth under Letter Patent, supplies a necessity, as well as a household convenience. It has been in use more than 4 years, and is growing in favor wherever it is used. It makes the neatest, and in every respect the best light. No offensive odor, no smoke, no grease to soil garments, no danger from explosion in lamps; does not injure weak eyes, gives a softer light than Kerosene, can be used with or without chimney, can be burned in any lamp with the trifling expense of changing the burner. It is cheaper than any light except daylight. All who use it will endorse what we say.

Life Association of America.

The Life Association of America has had a career as successful as it has been remarkable. Organized by the leading bankers and financiers of St. Louis to prevent the annual outflow of millions of the capital going to enrich the East at the expense of the West, it has so thoroughly commended itself to the business men of the country that upwards of two thousand of them have insured their lives in it for amounts ranging from ten thousand to seventy thousand dollars each, and it is a fact worthy of notice that while the policies of the Eastern Companies average less than $3,000 each, the policies in the Association average upwards of $6,000 each. This shows more forcibly than any mere words can how thoroughly the Association has gained the confidence of business men. It is perhaps the only company ever organized in the west that has shown sufficient vitality to be deemed worthy of attack by the Eastern companies. Charges the most unscrupulous and unfounded have been preferred, but in every instance have been shown to be false. Committees from nearly every state and from all the prominent cities of the country have visited St. Louis for the purpose of investigating the affairs of the Association and in every case have fully vindicated its management. The insurance companies of Missouri, New York, and Massachusetts, have made the most thorough examinations into the condition of the Company, and have all pronounced it thoroughly solvent, and not only so, but the Hon. Wm. Barnes, the highest American authority on insurance matters, has consented to become its consulting counsel and actuary, and has assumed the active management of the Eastern business of the Association, thus expressing in the most forcible manner possible his confidence in its present standing and future career. Its peculiarities of organization is such that while it is truly National in its scope it is also as truly local; each district being managed by men who have a direct pecuniary interest in the prosperity and safety of the company. Thus the Bloomington District is managed by the parties whose names appear in the advertisement, page 238, men who are recognized as being among our most honored citizens, and most successful business men. These gentlemen are investing in this District an amount of money sufficient to re-insure every man who goes into the Association through their office, thus affording the insured the most absolute security. If we may judge a Company by its success then certainly few have ever attained so enviable a position in so short a time as the Life Association of America. See page 238.

Haun & Whittier, Grocers.

The above gentlemen commenced in the grocery business some few months ago at 221 E. Front street, and opened with a fine stock of the best quality. Since their commencement they have met with greater success than they at first anticipated, which is to be greatly attributed to the courteous manner in which they wait upon customers and the closeness at which they sell every article. Mr. Haun is a young enterprising man and has been in the city about ten years, while Mr. Whittier, although in the city only about one year, has gained many friends. Their grocery may be found at 221 E- Front street, where goods may be obtained at the lowest cent.

T. J. Cox, Eagle Flouring Mills.

Our editorial review would be incomplete were we not to notice the gentlemanly proprietor of the Eagle Flouring Mills, T. J. Cox, esq. He came to the city some thirteen years ago and commenced in the milling business at these mills in 1860. They are substantially built of brick, have four run of stone, and are three and a half stories high, being 60 by 75 feet. At these mills a superior brand of flour is manufactured, which meets with ready sale in the city as well as in the south, which latter trade is of great importance, being large and profitable. Those who have not hitherto patronized the Eagle mills will find by doing so that they obtain an article which is unsurpassed and seldom equalled. Mills west end Jefferson street.

Plumb & Buffham, Painters, Grainers, &c.

The work of the above named gentlemen is unsurpassed in this section. They have been established in this city about four years, and during that time have been well and liberally patronized, their work usually giving the best of satisfaction. They are both practical painters, grainers, and paper hangers, and thoroughly understand every branch of the trade, always giving personal attention to any contract they may take, so that in view of this people placing work in their hands may rest assured of the same being well and satisfactorily done. We would refer the public to the finely executed work done by this firm in the court house, second ward school house, J. A. Jackman, esq.'s residence and many others in this city, an examination of which will will at once prove their expertness in the business. Remember Plumb & Buffham, the painters, when wanting anything done in their line. Their shop is located 208 W. Washington street, near Centre.

People's Bank.

The business expansion of Bloomington within the past few years has been great, and hence a number of her most prominent business men and retired merchants have banded together and opened a bank by the above name, to meet her increased demands, also to enable the mechanic, the clerk, the laborer and others of small means, to deposit their savings, on which they are allowed a liberal interest, thereby teaching them habits of economy and rendering them able in a few years to either commence for themselves in business or otherwise employ their money as they may deem advantageous. Of the reliability of the institution we need not speak, for a glance at the responsible names of the directors, and stock holders, who are themselves personally liable to the amount of $200,000, as a guarantee to their depositors, will at once inspire the fullest confidence. Jesse A. Willson, esq., is cashier, and George W. Parke, esq., president, both gentlemen being highly esteemed in this community for their integrity and business capacity, the former having done business in the city for years, being of the well known firm of Watkins & Willson, prominent lumber merchants, while the latter has been here about eighteen years, and has been a successful and prominent merchant. Since the opening of this bank business has wonderfully increased under its present efficient management. They are now building an imposing marble front edifice cor. Washington and Centre streets, three stories high, with mansard roof, which will be ready for occupancy in a short time. Such an institution as this and such gentlemen as are connected with it, are a credit and benefit to any community.

M. De La Brown, Prop. Bloomington Business University.

The business university of Bloomington is now one of our established and invaluable institutions and is ably conducted by Prof. Brown, who is well qualified for the position he occupies. This is a practical world, and he who would succeed in it, must be a practical man. A knowledge of the dead languages may be a very convenient accomplishment, but a knowledge of practical business life and strict business habits is an absolute necessity. The Bloomington Business University is established to meet this very necessity, and the reputation it has attained as a practical & thorough business college is excelled by no similar institution in the west. The principal and proprietor, Mr. Brown, is considered one of the best penman, if not the best, in this country, as specimens in the university abundantly prove. A short time ago we dropped into the commercial school of Prof. Brown, and examined the specimens of artistic skill in the line of card writing, pen pictures, &c., with which the walls are beautifully decorated, and we have no hesitation in pronouncing them the finest we ever saw. We understand the professor has located in the city with the determination of building up a commercial college of a substantial and enduring character, and if close attention to business and superior skill will accomplish that result, he will surely succeed. Young men or ladies from abroad who desire a thorough business education will consult their own interest by sending for terms and rules of this institution, which for reasonableness and facilities are unexcelled. University over 210 N. Centre, west side Court House square.

J. R. Mason & Co., Insurance Agents.

We have much pleasure in directing the attention of those of our readers, who may wish reliable Insurance, (either Fire or Life,) to the well known agency of J. R.

Mason & Co. The firm is composed of Judson R. Mason Esq., who has lived in Bloomington the past six years, and who has had five years experience in the Insurance business, and who commencing at the bottom round of the ladder has by close application to the business and interests of his patrons and companies, worked his way up to be State Agent for one of the best Companies in the country, we refer to the Phoenix Insurance Co. of Hartford, Conn. Mr. R. G. Lambert, has resided here for 5 years or more, has had large experience in the Insurance line, and is known as a reliable man in all his dealings, while Mr. Fitch Harwood, the other member of the firm is perhaps too well known in Bloomington and vicinity, to need much eulogy at our hands, still we may say that he has resided here since boyhood and until recently was a member of the old established and reliable hardware firm of Harwood Brothers. Mr. Harwood will be glad to see friends and patrons at the office, which after the 1st of October, 1870, will be over Peoples New Bank building, on the corner of Centre and Washington Streets, where the firm will be happy to issue policies on as favorable terms and in as reliable companies as can be found. J. R. Mason & Co., represent the following Fire Companies: Phoenix and Merchants of Hartford, Conn.; the Underwriters and Security of New York; Aurora of Aurora, Ill.; Bloomington of Bloomington, Ill., and the National Life of Washington, D. C. R. G. Lambert & Co., represent the Bloomington branch of Lamar Insurance Co. of Chicago, also Bloomington branch of Republic Insurance Co. of Chicago. This firm represent a total of Sixteen Million Dollars. Remember that after the 1st of October, 1870, they will be found over the Peoples New Bank, cor. Centre and Washington St.

Meyer Heilbrun, Clothing and Gents' Furnishing Goods.

We must not in our Editorial review omit to mention Mr. Heilbrun, he has one of the most central and best stocked stores in Bloomington. Mr. H. is well known to most of the citizens of this vicinity, yet we may say to those who do not know him, that he may be found at No. 213 N. Main Street, Schroeders Opera House building. He has been in business in this city during the past 10 years, the first 5 of which he was in partnership with his brother Morris, (who is now doing an extensive business in Cincinnati,) the last 5 he has been alone in the business, and we hear it said that satisfaction is guaranteed to all those placing their orders with him. He has constantly in stock a full line of ready-made clothing, hats, caps and furs, gent' furnishing goods, trunks, traveling bags, valises, &c., in fine, anything usually kept in stores, of this character may here be found, and which Mr. H. assures us he sells at as low figures as can be afforded, leaving himself a small margin as profit. His motto being large and quick sales, and small profits. We advise all wanting anything in his line of trade to visit his store, and sample his goods and prices, before placing their orders, and we think satisfaction is sure. Remember Opera House building, Main st.

Illinois Wesleyan University.

Among the educational institutes which grace this thriving city, and offer especial facilities for mental culture, none presents greater attractions than the Illinois Wesleyan University. It is beautifully located on a high knoll, in the northern part of the city, midway between the Public Square and the suburban village of Normal. Though in its infancy in years, it possesses all the vigor and scholastic life of many of the maturer universities, its courses of study are symmetrical, thorough and complete, and all the regular classes of a thoroughly organized college, are in successful operation within its walls, it is thus not simply a college in pretensions, but one in fact. Though lacking in the past in one particular, it is confidently believed that this want will be met during the coming year, and that by the Fall of 1871, the students of the Illinois Wesleyan University, will be welcomed to capacious halls in a magnificent building, unsurpassed in convenience, and beauty of style, by any similar institution in the State. Already the foundations of this new college building are laid, and the contract closed for its erection and external finishing, during the present year. We are pleased to learn that this University is taking the lead in furnishing free tuition, in that much neglected department of education, Elocution, Prof. S. S. Hamill, A. M., well and favorably known in this and adjoining states, as an eminently successful teacher of elocution, has accepted the chair of Elocution and English Literature, and will hereafter devote his entire time to that department. The Faculty has been further strengthened by the election of Rev. G. W. Gray, A. M., formerly President of Quincy College, to the chair of Natural Sciences. Knowing the peculiar advantages afforded by this institution, we cannot too highly recommend it to those desiring a thorough education

J. M. Bradstreet & Sons, Mercantile Agency.

Special attention of the business men of Bloomington is called to the advertisement of J. M. Bradstreet & Sons' Mercantile Agency. Their agency has been established since 1849, being the oldest of the kind in the United States. They issue a volume of their work twice a year, on the first of January and July, which are delivered to business men at a moderate subscription price, considering their value. They give the name of every business man, banker, &c., in every city in the United States and Canadas, showing their grade of credit and standing. This work is invaluable to every business wholesale house, and should be liberally subscribed for, as by its use much money is often saved and annoyance obviated.

James Warrack, General Agent for the old established Anchor Steamship Line and Exchange Office.

We desire to call especial attention to the advertisement of the above old established and reliable steamship line, on back cover of this Directory and page inside, especially would we call the attention of those persons who contemplate a visit to England, Ireland, Scotland, Wales, or any European country. This company's line has been established about fifteen years, and has gained a reputation second to none for its excellent vessels, good fare, low rates of charges, and kind treatment of passengers. They have some thirty ships—many of them entirely new—all of which are well and conveniently constructed, and officered by men who not only give satisfaction to the proprietors of the line but to passengers on board. For beauty, strength and speed the Anchor line of steamships stands among the best, having made about as fastest time as any afloat. James Warrack, Esq., the gen'l western agent, corner Madison and La Salle streets, Chicago, Ill., than whom a more courteous and obliging gentleman cannot be found. This gentleman has been established in Chicago since 1855, and his is nearly the oldest, if not the oldest, agency of the kind in Chicago. Drafts are issued payable at any bank in Europe at lowest rates. Persons wishing to purchase return or excursion tickets can do so at this office at lowest rates. Also purchase tickets which will not only transport them to any foreign port, but which will provide them with hotel accommodation, carriage hire, &c. For any information in regard to trips across the Atlantic in one of these magnificent steamships, or sending for friends or relatives from the old world, write or apply to James Warrack, Esq., who will be only too happy to give such information, and render all assistance at his command, at as low rates as any, and lower than many other lines. Office south east corner Madison and La Salle streets, Chicago, Illinois.

J. S. Davis, Alaska Diamonds and Jewelry.

To those wishing an article which appears as brilliant and effective as real diamonds, we would refer to the store of the above named gentleman, 107 Monroe st., near post office, Chicago, for there may be obtained the genuine Alaska Diamond, set in the most elaborate 18 carat gold settings, at prices about one-sixteenth that of the real diamond. Mr. Davis has been established at this location for some time now, during which time he has done an immense trade among all classes of society. Persons visiting Chicago should make a note of the address, and call and examine this elaborate and still cheap jewelry, and we have no doubt that each one doing so will be satisfied both in quality and price. Remember Monroe st., near post office.

Waring, Fetrow & Wells, Earth Closets, Wire Woven Mattresses, 109 Dearborn Street, Chicago.

The above firm are general western agents for the popular Earth Closets and Wire Woven Mattresses. The former have been improved from time to time until now perfection is almost reached, and they are coming into as common use as the ordinary privy, in almost every city and town where they have been introduced. They may be bought for a mere trifle, from $15 to $32, and erected or placed in any room or out of doors, without any fear of the least offensive odor arising therefrom, and without any inconvenience. Hundreds of testimonials have been received by the Earth Closet Company testifying to their economical and sanitary value. We give below one out of the many received, and ask the special attention of all housekeepers to these invaluable commodos. They must be seen and examined to be fully appreciated, and we refer the people of Bloomington to the one in satisfactory operation at the well known store of Maxwell, Batchelder & Co., Bloomington.

*Board of Health, office of Sanitary Superintendent, Chicago, November 30, 1869:—*I have for the past three years examined and witnessed the practical working of the Earth Closet, and am satisfied that under a great variety of circumstances it affords the best means of disposing of night-soil, with reference to both sanitary and economical considerations.

The above firm are also agents for the celebrated Wire Woven Mattresses. For ease and comfort, cleanliness, adaptation to the form of the body, durability and remarkable elasticity, it is unequalled. It is also perfectly noiseless. This, like the Earth Closets, is the best thing ever introduced, and must be seen to be appreciated. Many private houses, as well as hotels and public institutions are supplied throughout with these invaluable mattresses, and testimonials in their favor are pouring in daily from those using them, among which we may give the following:

*Institution for the Relief of the Ruptured and Crippled, New York, Jan. 8, 1870:—*I consider the Woven Wire Mattress one of the most invaluable inventions of the day, as it contributes so largely to the relief and comfort of the sick. The wire fabric of which it is formed yields uniformly to the body, obviating undue pressure on the prominent parts of the emaciated patient, while the morbid secretions emanating from the sick are not retained about the patient, as in the ordinary Mattress. Two thicknesses of a comfortable is a sufficient protection to the patient from the wire fabric, and is all that is required for warmth in a temperature of sixty degrees. This light covering is readily removed and washed in extraordinary cases, and the facility afforded for changing the bedding obviates the necessity for disinfectants. From this favorable experience in the test of the Woven Wire Mattress I have recommended their use to the exclusion of all others in our hospital, in which the patients are mainly children, many of them helplessly paralyzed, or afflicted with external ulcerations. This information may be used by the company, wherever it will tend to comfort the sick, at home or in the hospital, or family use, as I consider the Mattress not only a comfortable bed, but a means of maintaining good health.

DR. JAMES KNIGHT, Physician and Surgeon to the Institution.

We would particularly request the citizens of Bloomington, when in Chicago, to call and examine the above, or send for circulars descriptive of the same to Waring, Fetrow & Wells, 109 Dearborn street, Chicago.

Smeal, Rebanks & Co., Stationers, Binders and Blank Book manufacturers, Chicago.

We direct the attention of dealers in Bloomington and elsewhere to the above firm when wanting anything in their line. They have one of the best appointed book binderies in the west, and can do work of a superior order at reasonable price, and with dispatch. They manufacture blank books very extensively, and sell the same at fair rates, their stock of papers, colored medium, manilla, french and commercial note, tissue, &c., is large, they also keep an extensive stock of inks, and all kinds of ink bottles, gold pens, cutlery and in fact everything usually found in a first class stationery store. We know each individual member of the above firm personally, and will vouch for their entire reliability and fairness in all their dealings. Remember you cannot do better than place your orders with Smeal, Rebanks & Co., 84 and 86 Dearborn street, Chicago, Ill.

W. W. Kimball, Pianos, Organs, Melodeons, &c.

Of all the Pianos now before the public, none have been awarded more premiums nor have so many testimonials, as the Lighte Patent Insulated, Iron Frame. Artists such as Thalberg, William Mason, G. Satter and others holding the highest positions in the musical world, have pronounced them to be unsurpassed in everything that constitutes a first class instrument. Mr. K. has the famous piano of Hallet, Davis & Co., the great Union Piano Forte Co's. pianos, &c., all of which are fully warranted for five years. F. C. Lighte & Co's Pianos have been awarded twenty first premiums, together with the highest premium at the American World's Fair, and Exhibition of the Industry of all Nations. After having received numerous gold and silver medals, together with the highest testimonials from almost every other distinguished source, and relying upon the well tried ability of Mr. Lighte, under whose sole management the entire manufacturing department is to remain, as it always has, they do not hesitate to solicit further patronage, feeling confident of their ability to give perfect satisfaction in every respect. The Testimonials are from the highest musical celebrities of Europe and America, such as S. Thalberg, Vieuxtemps, Arthur Napoleon, Ekhard, Hoffman, W. Mason, Geo. F. Briltow, H. C. Timm, Theodore Eisfeld, Strakosch, G. Satter, Jullien. "Official certificate from the public school department of New York. Over one hundred of your pianos have been used in the different School districts of New York, and they have invariably given the best satisfaction. Wm. H. Neilson, Esq., President N. Y. Board of Education. Albert Gilbert, Esq., Clerk of the N. Y. Board of Education." Mr. Kimball has elegant salesrooms in the Opera House building, No. 63 Washington street, Chicago, parties who may desire anything in the musical line will do well to call on or address Mr. Kimball as above. See his advertisement on page 324 of this Directory.

Briggs House, Chicago, B. H. Skinner, Proprietor.

To all those who may read this, and who may have occasion to visit Chicago, we strongly advise them to patronize the Briggs House. It is one of the best and most conveniently located hotels in the city, being on the north east corner of Randolph and Well streets, near the court house, central business portion of the city and all the depots. It is kept by that well known host B. H. Skinner Esq., for many years proprietor of the Metropolitan Hotel, Chicago, than whom no one knows better how to conduct a first-class hotel. George H. French who has been connected with the "Briggs" since its opening, is still the able superintendent. Either Messrs. A. F. Wells, C. C. Hilton or S. P. Skinner, son of the proprietor, may always be seen presiding at the desk. W. F. Wentworth Esq., is the very popular and efficient cashier. Don't forget the Briggs when in Chicago. See page 282.

Western Hotel, Courtlandt St., New York City, Thomas D. Winchester, Proprietor.

It may be advisable to point out to our western readers, a good place to stop at when in New York, we do so in mentioning the Western Hotel, located on Courtlandt street, a few doors from Broadway, and kept in good style by that well known host T. D. Winchester Esq. The above house has been kept by the Winchester family a quarter of a century, and is patronized liberally by western men, as by so doing they secure the best of accommodations and attention with excellent fare and are never called upon to pay an exorbitant price for the same. Messrs. Bouden and Skinner the very popular clerks, may still be found presiding at the desk. Don't forget to patronize the Western Hotel on your next visit to New York, and our word for it you will be pleased you have taken our advice.

Three good reasons for joining this Association in preference to insuring in any other Company, 1st. It is purely mutual. The entire profits will be returned to the policy holders in the shape of Dividends.

2d. Its funds are all invested in the West and South at high rate of interest. This insures LARGER DIVIDENDS than can be paid by any Eastern Company. One Hundred Dollars invested at six per cent. compound interest for fifty years will amount to $1,842.01. One Hundred Dollars invested at ten per cent compound interest for fifty years will amount to $11,739.07. Difference in favor of high interest $9,897.06. Why send your money East to be invested at six per cent when your neighbors in Illinois will gladly pay 10 per cent High interest means large dividends.

3d. The Association has already been endorsed by upwards of 2000 of the leading financiers and business men of the Mississippi Valley, who have shown their confidence in the Association by each insuring in it to the extent of Ten Thousand Dollars and upward, and becoming its trustees and earnest active supporters. These men have pledged their good names and hard won reputations for the success of the Company. Their combined premiums amount to upwards of One Million Dollars a year, on which we pay no renewal commissions—thus saving $75,000 a year, to be returned to the policy holders as dividends. This is an extra source of profit that no other Company in the world has or can have, until it adopts the plans of this Association.

We issue every desirable form of Policy. Dividends on Contribution Plans, Policies absolutely non-forfeiting. A Loan of one third the annual premium allowed.

ST. JOSEPH'S ACADEMY, BLOOMINGTON, ILL.

The site of this Institution is in the highest degree healthy. The scholastic year, consisting of ten months, commences on the first Monday in September, and ends about the 28th of June. It is divided into two sessions, of five month each. Pupils who enter after the commencement of a session, will be charged only for such portion of it as remain. No deduction is made for withdrawing pupils before the end of the session, unless in case of protracted illness or dismissal. Reference required.

Monthly reports of behaviour and application are read in the presence of the teachers and pupils, and distinctions conferred on those whose conduct and progress have merited reward. There is a private examination of all the classes held at the end of each session, and bulletins of proficiency are sent to parents or guardians. The last examination and distribution of premiums.

All means are employed to excite laudable emulation in the minds of the pupils. Strict attention is paid to the religious instruction of Catholic children. Pupils of all denominations are admissible, and their religious opinions are not interfered with, but for the sake of good order, they are required to attend the public exercises of religion with the other inmates of the Institution.

No expenditure for clothing nor advances for pocket money will be made by the Institution, unless an equivalent sum be deposited with the Superioress.

All payments must be made in advance; and, when not made punctually, the usual rate of interest will be added.

The course of instruction comprises: Orthography, Reading, Writing, Grammar, Ancient and Modern Geography, the use of Globes, Composition, Sacred and Profane History, Astronomy, Mythology, Rhetoric, Botany, Philosophy, Chemistry, Arithmetic, Algebra, Book-keeping, French and German Languages, Music on the Piano Forte, Melodeon, Guitar and Vocal Music, Drawing and Painting, Plain and Ornamental Needle Work, the making of Artificial Fruit and Flowers.

LIGHT! LIGHT!

HEAT, COLD OR FLAME WILL NOT EXPLODE IT.

A. N. BEARD,

No. 215 Ashley Block, Bloomington, Ill.,

GENERAL AGENT FOR

Danforth's Celebrated

PETROLEUM FLUID

AS A SUBSTITUTE FOR ALL OTHER LIGHTS.

This article has been fully tested, and is worthy of entire confidence.

It makes a clear, beautiful light! It will not soil anything to which it is applied! It is a complete grease eraser! It does not smoke the chimney! It has no unpleasant odor! It is very cheap! And best of all it is perfectly safe, being

ABSOLUTELY NON-EXPLOSIVE

As can be successfully demonstrated, and warranted to give entire satisfaction, or money refunded.

It is not made in the ordinary cheap way of other Fluids, by putting Chemicals into Crude Gasoline, Benzine or Naptha, but by a process of

Distillation, Agitation and Filtering,

So that it contains neither Grease nor Sediment, and is as pure and clear as the most transparent water.

COURSES OF STUDY.

By reference to the new Catalogue, it will be seen that we now offer, to young men desiring an education, Four Courses of Study—two Classical and two Scientific.

I—The Regular Classical Course. II—A Classical Course in which the Student may elect certain Sciences, in place of the last two Terms of Latin and Greek respectively:—the successful candidate in either of these Courses being entitled to the degree of Bachelor of Arts, (A. B.) A Scientific Course, including German, requiring four years for completion: and IV—A Scientific Course in which the Student may elect the Latin in the place of certain of the Sciences—the successful candidate in either of the two last named Courses being entitled to the degree of Bachelor of Science, (B. S.) Attention is invited to the special facilities for the practical Study of Natural Sciences—our Course of Study in that Department being more extensive and more thorough than that of any similar institution in the State. The Classical Course is thorough and complete, being substantially the same as that of the older Colleges and Universities.

Expenses.—Tuition per Annum.—English Preparatory, $28 00
 Classical Preparatory and Collegiate, 33 00

Students wishing to enter any Department of the University, should be present promptly at the beginning of the Term. For Catalogues or other information apply to

ANCHOR LINE OF OCEAN STEAMSHIPS

TO AND FROM

NEW YORK AND LIVERPOOL, GLASGOW, LONDON, DERRY, AND ALL RAILWAY STATIONS IN GREAT BRITAIN & IRELAND. ALSO
HAMBURG, PARIS, GENOA,
NAPLES, VENICE,
AND PRINCIPAL PORTS IN THE MEDITERRANEAN.

The above line is composed of first-class, fast sailing, Clyde built Steamers, commanded by careful and experienced officers. The accommodation provided on board for the comfort and convenience of passengers cannot be surpassed, particularly as regards the sleeping apartments which are all on the main Deck, an arrangement, much appreciated by passengers.

The rates of fare are as low as any line running.

The managers spare no trouble or expense in providing for the welfare and safety of their passengers. Every information will be promptly given on application to the Western agent, either by letter or otherwise. Plans of the cabins of all the Steamers can be seen at the office, and berths and state rooms secured for any Steamer.

Dwight House,
SOUTH BEND, IND.

A. A. Allen, proprietor, corner Michigan and Water streets. This House is one to which we desire to call the particular attention of the traveling public, also to its gentlemanly proprietor. Any one who has staid at the Dwight House during the time it was kept by Dwight Deming, Esq., cannot but have been highly satisfied with the manner in which they were accommodated. Some years ago the House came into possession of its present proprietor, Mr. Allen, and he having had much experience in Eastern hotels, has eminently fitted himself to uphold the prestige of the Dwight. Mr. Allen has been connected with the Bramble House in Lafayette, Ind., and leaves nothing undone which his experience has taught him would be conducive to the comfort of his guests. The Dwight has been recently fitted up in good style, the rooms are airy and scrupulously clean, the ceilings high and the Hotel thoroughly ventilated, while the table is all the most fastidious could desire. We heartily commend the Dwight House and its proprietor to public patronage. Ladies or gentlemen from Boston stopping at the Dwight will be doubly welcome.

American House,

BOSTON, MASS.

The very important and extensive improvements which have recently been made in this popular Hotel, the largest in New England, enable the proprietors to offer to tourists, families and the traveling public, accommodations superior to any other Hotel in the city. During the past summer additions have been made of numerous suites of apartments with bathing rooms, water closets, etc., attached. One of Tuft's magnificent passenger elevators, the best ever constructed, conveys guests to the upper stories of the house in one minute; the entries have been newly and richly carpeted, and the entire house thoroughly replenished and refurnished, making it, in all its appointments, equal to any Hotel in the country. Telegraph office, billiard halls and cafe on the first-floor.

LEWIS RICE &amp; SON, Propr's.

PATTY HOUSE,

Fond du Lac, Wis.

The Patty House is conceded by all to be the HOTEL of Fond du Lac. It is centrally located, and Messrs. Patty & Blythe, the worthy proprs., spare no pains to render the guests every comfort. The rooms are all airy and well ventilated, the ceilings high, and furniture all new and of tasty design. The table is all that the most fastidious could desire, while the charges, which are only $2.50 per day, must be satisfactory to all patrons of the Hotel. PATTY & BLYTHE, Proprs.

WEDDELL HOUSE,

CLEVELAND, OHIO.

This excellent Hotel has recently been remodeled and enlarged, and is capable of accommodating 500 guests. It is situated in the centre of business, corner of Superior and Bank streets. It is the largest and finest Hotel in the City, and for comfort and convenience has not its equal.
Messrs. SEELEY & RICHARDSON, Clerks.
R. A. GILLETTE & CO., Proprs.

Spencer House,

CINCINNATI, OHIO.

This fine, large and well kept Hotel is situated on the corner of Broadway and Front streets, directly opposite the Little Miami and Ohio, and Mississippi Railroad Offices. Can accommodate 500 guests. J. A. Pratt, Proprietor. Samuel Johnson and J. G. Pitts, Clerks.

EMPIRE HOUSE,

Oshkosh, Wis.

Jas. A. Rea, propr., corner Main and Algoma streets. The above house has been recently refurnished and thoroughly renovated, and everything done to make it in every way a hotel for the comfort of the public. Good table, good beds, and moderate charges.

STATES UNION HOTEL, PHILADELPHIA, PA.

This Hotel is pleasantly situated on the south side of Market St., a few doors above Sixth. Its central locality makes it particularly desirable to persons visiting the city on business or pleasure.

T. H. B. SANDERS, Propr.

St. Nicholas Hotel Springfield, Ill.

This magnificent Hotel is situated on the corner of Fourth and Jefferson streets, convenient to the business centre of the city.—The House is now ready for the accommodation of the traveling public, having been recently refitted, thoroughly refurnished and improved. Under present management the St. Nicholas is all that can be desired.

R. L. BROWNING, Propr.

WESTERN HOTEL,

New York City,

Nos. 9, 11, 13 and 15 Courtlandt st. This large and convenient House is situated in the very heart of the business portion of New York. Is within a few minutes walk of the ferries, and only about twenty paces from Broadway, where stages can be obtained to all parts of the city. The house has recently undergone improvement and the proprietors can, with the utmost confidence, invite their friends and the public to visit the Hotel, as they may be assured of family rooms at moderate charges. Suites of family rooms with modern conveniences.

THOS. D. WINCHESTER, Propr.

MERCHANTS' HOTEL,

St. Paul, Minn.

This Hotel is first-class in all its appointments, furniture new, and of exquisite manufacture, while its central location makes it THE HOTEL for all travelers having business in St. Paul. The patronage of the traveling public is respectfully solicited. Charges moderate.

TREMONT HOUSE,

G. L. DICKINSON & SON, Proprietors,
Cor. 8th and Iowa Sts., Dubuque, Iowa.

The Tremont House is situated on the corner of Eighth and Iowa streets, in the very business centre of Dubuque, and now offers superior inducements to the traveling public. N. B. The patronage of the traveling public is respectfully solicited.

PATERSON HOUSE,

KEOKUK, IOWA.

The Hotel of Keokuk, Iowa, lately known as the "Tepfer House," has changed proprietors and name, and will be henceforth known as the "Paterson House." The Messrs Paterson, the new proprietors are experienced hotel men and propose to make the "Paterson," second to none in the west. We advise those stopping at Keokuk, to patronize the "Paterson."
